put it, 'How can a guy get chummy with a gal whose idea of a big evening is a frosted malted and a platter of zuc-

fanatic.

"I gather you finally went up against the paragon yourself," I said. "That I did," said the broker, "and with good reason. One night several members of the wolf pack were cutting up touches at Tony's, and we got to discussing Trudy and how no one had been able to interest her in life with a capital L. Maybe it was the Vermouth, but I started to brag about how good I was in the romantic department, and before you could say 'Jack Legs Diamond,' I had bet five fellows a thousand dollars each that I could get Trudy to like me well enough to accept a mink coat as a present. We a mink coat as a present. We were to pay off at a New Year's Eve party in my apartment."

"Did the lady vegetarian go for your applesauce?" I asked. "Trudy was as good as her reputation." said the broker, "and when I offered her a fur coat, she laughed and told me to stop reading F. Scott Fitz-gerald. Her cloth coat kept her plenty warm, she said, besides which she didn't want the mas-
