viously acting. SCREEN: A documentary film which conveys a sense of drama along with its beautiful photogra-phy and factual accounting opens today at the Madison theater. It is "The Secret Land." previewed Wednesday by navy men, educa-tors, civic club leaders, and navy mothers. The picture tells the story of the navy's exploration of the Ant-arctic from conception to comple-tion. Narrators are Robert Mont-gomery, Robert Taylor, and Van Heffin, all veterans. "The Secret Land." has scenes of suspense and drama—the res-cues of a man dropped into the killing sea by a broken cable and of a group of fliers crashed on icy wastes; it has touches of hu-mor—strutting penguins and hun-gry puppies; and it has, above all, a pervading feeling of intensity waster it has above all. a pervading feeling of intensity waster. a pervading feeling of intensity with a genuine feeling of some of the most advanced Amer-tion at the Artists' gallery is his some of way having not yet found his some of hus nessage.
