how to eat corn. The average Japanese, the Associated Press explains, thinks corn is fit only for chickens. Americans will be inclined to laugh at this story. But it il ustrates the influence of cus-toms and habits upon a nation's fortunes and way of life. Corn is one of America's greatest and most useful products. It has been a cornerstone of our physi-cal strength and economic pros-perity. Chickenfeed, indeed! What difference might history have taken if the Japanese had copied America's use of corn as they have our devotion to base-ball and gadgets. Better late than never.—Chicago Sun-Times Drama. NEW YORK (AP) I know a fine for a lot of things. So did man who's got 7,700,000-and I. But for what?" he's complaining.

But R. W. ("Rocky") John-son doesn't have 7,700,000 dol-lars. He has 7,700,000 tent stakes. And that's why he's comstakes. And that's why he's com-plaining. He's a one-man mon-opolist with a monopoly no-body seems to want — tent stakes. And Rocky, a Kansas City businessman, owns a mountain of 'em. "Enough," gloomed the na-tion's unwilling tent stake king, "to stretch about 2600 miles, or from Cleveland to Seattle." Rocky's troubles began last May while he was traveling about the country buying war surplus materials. At New Orleans an official of the War A ssets Administration told him.

A ssets 'Administration' tota him: "At Shreveport we've got S. 500,000 surplus tent stakes. It's a real bargain. Think of all the things they could be used for." Rocky agreed it was a rare opportunity. He rushed to Shreveport and found the tent. stakes. They had cost the gov-ernment $898,000 better than a dime anjece. Rocky got them

Answer to Question No. 2 Yes, according to St. Louis' Father Daniel A, Lord. He points out teen-agers today think they have to go out for a "good time" with taxi fare or car, expensive that an Army deput at Main phis had 5,000,000 to 10,000,000 small pup tent pegs for sale. "As far as I was concerned they'd stay for sale forever," he said. "I doubt if any man in history ever owned as many tent pegs as I did—and I cer-tainly didn't want any more." The only way Rocky has found so far to get out from under his investment is to manufacture his tent stakes into camp stools. Each takes eight pegs and some canvas. "That left the job of finding 1,062,500 people who wanted to sit on a camp stool." he said. "So far I've only found 100,-000." with taxi fare or car, expensive dinner, dancing, a floor show, etc. He says all dances and all floor shows are exactly alike. They are sitting at home talk-ing, reading, getting acquainted —like Mother and Dad did—that is too dull. Maybe so, but Dad and Mother didn't think so. Answer to Question No. 3

But this used up 800,000 tent But this used up sou,out tent stakes—leaving him only 7,700,-000 to go. One reason Rocky wants to pull up stakes and get out of the tent stake bus-iness is to give him time to work out another small per-sonal problem
