A. Aside from having different color sensitivities the eye and the camera are essentially alike. Both include a lens which alike. Both include a lens which projects an image on a sensitive surface, in one case the retina, in the other, the emulsion of the plate or film; a means for focusing; etc. There is no reason why the camera should not see what the eve sees.

Q. Who composed the Hawalian song "Aloa Oe?" M. B.
A. Sept. 2, 1948, marked the 69th anniversary of the composition of the famous Hawaiian melody called "Aloha Oe." This was written by the late Queen Liliuokalani, who was for a time ruler of the Hawaiian Islands. She was the sister of King Kalakaua whom she succeeded in 1891.
