SERGEI PROKOFIEFF may not realize it, but he's heading for No. 1 ranking in our list of anti-Soviet propagandists. Comrade Prokofieff is the composer of "Peter and the Wolf," which has delighted hundreds of thousands of American children. And he is one of the composers who was severely censured a year ago by the Communist party central committee. The committee charged him with "formalism," whatever that is. The composer thanked his critics, humbly started another composition which he called "The Tale of Ats, a Real Person." But this also proved out

As to States' Responsibilities

ARKANSAS' new governor, Sidney McMath, said not only a mouthful but a cupful of wisdom in the statement: "If the states will assume their responsibilities, then they can more adequately protect their state's rights." Civil liberties, about which Gov. McMath was speaking more specifically, is an excellent case in point. If the states were adequately protecting the civil liberties of citizens, the federal government wouldn't be stepping in to do it. There could be no better way for the states to prove their rights than by discharging their responsibilities. — St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

FRENCH WISDOM

THOSE Frenchmen who are balking at higher taxes seem eager, however, for their country to accept any amount of economic recovery the American taxpayer is willing to buy. — New York World-Telegram.

Collectors Divided on Stamp Query

By HASKIN

A reader can get the answer to any question of fact by writing the Long Beach Press-Telegram information bureau, 314 E. St., N. E., Washington 2, D. C. Please enclose three (3) cents for return postage.

Q. Should the glue be removed from new stamps in a collection? H. F.

A. There is much discussion in philatelic circles about the effect that gum or glue will have on the life of stamps over a long period of time. Certain groups think that gum should be removed in order to lengthen the life of the stamps but collectors do not do this at the present time for it would definitely lower the value of the stamps.

Q. How long has there been a Communist party in the United States? T. M. M.

A. The Communist party in the United States was organized in 1919 with 76 members.

Q. How many words are there in the Bible? R. A. R.

A. The number of words in the Bible has been estimated at 774,680. This is some 200,000 more than in "Gone With the Wind."

Q. Why was the famous street in London called "Rotten Row"? A. When King William III ordered a road out through Hyde Park to Kensington Palace the road was named Route du Roi (Road of the King), French being that time the preferred language of the court. The name soon became corrupted into Rotten Row.

Q. Is the avocado a fruit or a vegetable? B. B.

A. The avocado is the fruit of the tree Persea. The name avocado, Spanish for "advocate," is a sound-substitute for the Aztec ahucatl.

Q. How is venom obtained from a snake? L. McK.

A. A venom may be "milked" from a snake by placing a cup beneath the fangs and allowing the snake to bite it, while the venom gland is pressed with the thumb and forefinger.

Q. From what kind of plant does henna come? J. O'H.

A. Henna is an ornamental shrub or small tree, Lawsonia inermis, a native of Africa and Asia. It bears fragrant flowers ranging from white to red. In California, Florida, and England it is cultivated for ornament and is called Egyptian privet. The dye is obtained from the leaves.

TALE OF HONEYLAMB

Sheep Thought All Dogs Were Like Her Pal Flash

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK. (AP) This is the tale of Honeylamb, the sheep that thought she was a dog. It is a story of what befalls innocence astray. A year ago a newspaper friend of mine in Washington, D. C., achieved the dream of most city people—a place in the country. It was an old 11-acre farm in Maryland. My friend, Herman Allen, his wife, Emmy Lou, and their two small daughters loved their life there immediately. So did Flash, the family's Springer spaniel. "Our first investment in livestock was chickens," said Herman. "After that we got a couple of geese and a few ducks. Then we decided we'd like to raise some real meat so we got four lambs."

The mutton quartet finally dwindled to one, which the Allens decided to keep over the winter. "As we might have known, she became a pet," said Herman. "Not a pet really, as far as we were concerned, but Flash's pal. They played together, ate out of the same dish and went together to meet Ann coming home from the school bus."

Flash's friendship might have gone on for years except that Honeylamb apparently got it into her head that she was a dog herself. And that would have been all right—except that no other dog but Flash understood it that way. Recently there was a coon hunt in the neighborhood. A Maryland coon hunt is a special kind of thing. The hunters turn their dogs loose and sit in their burlap bags as they listen to the yowling hounds on the trail. It is the dogs and the coon, if any, who get the exercise. Whether a coon is actually treed and taken is largely inconsequential and irrelevant. The hunters get most of their fun hearing the mellow mouth music of the hounds concert. Well, Flash came on a hunting breed himself. So when he heard the hounds out to join in

WHAT OTHERS ARE SAYING

WE SHOULD be remiss in our duties (at Columbia University), if, while our students are learning to become doctors, teachers, engineers, lawyers and the like, we did not see to it that they also learn to become active, responsible citizens of democracy in the most practical meaning of the term. —Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, president, Columbia University.

I DO NOT think that a smattering of literacy makes a person educated. The modern world has shown that a man may be a great specialist—a great engineer, for example—and still lack any education in political or human values. —Jawaharlal Nehru, prime minister of India.

WHENEVER you hear anyone say there is a Communist under every desk in Washington, that is a slander on the 2,300,000 government employees. You ask that person to name one and then send the name to Tom Clark and he will do the rest. —Attorney General Clark.

YOU could give the Chinese 90 per cent of control of China's government, and the Communists still would run the government. —Rep. Sol Bloom (D.) of New York, predicting failure of any "coalition" government in China.

Sen. Soaper Says:

By E. V. WADE

AT THE LAST SICK CALL, Labor Secretary Tobin was doing as well as could be expected, considering that he didn't know Bob Taft was loaded. Even if it were possible geographically, our resolute chum, Norway, doesn't propose to become the soft underbelly in any Kremlin design.

A tycoon who set up in business on a shoestring passed to his reward. As to what has become of the customer who bought one shoestring we wouldn't know.

To take the play from television, the lagging movies will have to come up with something spectacularly new—say that long-promised blonde in three dimensions.

The chase. And Honeylamb faithfully set out after him. She wanted to be in on the coon hunt too. Alien wrote me what happened: "I missed Honeylamb the next morning, when she didn't show up to follow me to the car. But I figured she was just sleeping late."

"Later in the morning Emmy Lou phoned me at the office. She had found Honeylamb, her throat was chewed to ribbons. 'She thought all dogs were like Flash.'"

Let's Explore Your Mind

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Answer to Question No. 1. No. If they do they've let their marriage become monotonous. Neither ever surprises the other with some new interest, new diversions. Baisac said: "Marriage must continually vanquish the monster of habit." If not, marriage will cease to be a new experience every day, a growth into larger ways of living. Often one tries to cure the monotony by becoming interested in "the other person." Result—triangle, jealousy, sometimes divorce, without any real cause.

Answer to Question No. 2. Yes. When Johnnie steals candy from the drug store counter, or Mary runs away from home with 10 cents in her pocket, it is so easy to blame the movies or comic strips. Probably true, sometimes, but Johnnies and Marys have always done these things. So what? If the parents went to the movies with the children, or trained them to see the right movies—or see the movies right—and talked over the comic strips and laughed with them, it would surely help.

Answer to Question No. 3. For answer I quote a recent address by Kermit Eby, director of Research of the C. I. O. He said (paraphrased): "In many communities the saloonkeeper knows more about the community than the pastor. I don't like such a world. I want one where men and women can express their natures in a healthier environment than the corner saloon. But I'm not going to criticize saloons until we get something better." I don't like the situation either. Let's all support the clergy and church people and get something better.

Neglected Spoken English

A NEW approach to the painful, recurrent subject of teaching English in our schools was heard here this week at a meeting of the Modern Language Association of America. Professor Karl W. Dykema, of Youngstown College, argued that "what we call English grammar gives us very little knowledge of the grammar of spoken English." He suggested that researchers with candid microphones go afield and acquire recordings which would give "every aspect and variety of the spoken language." —New York Herald Tribune.

Sun Heat Battery

UNITED PRESS tells us of a lady in Dover, Mass., who isn't buying any coal or fuel this winter. Instead, she spent $3000 to install what is virtually a heat battery charged by the sun. A contraption of glass and metal catches the sun's rays and conducts the captured warmth into a series of "heat bins," as the lady calls them. In these bins are quantities of sodium sulfate decahydrate, U. P. says that when this chemical is warmed it melts and absorbs heat. When it solidifies, it releases the heat. —Dallas Morning News.
