SAD STORY OF THRIFT

Man Tries Painting, But Reaps Only Chaos

By HAL BOYLE NEW YORK. (AP) Planning to help the little woman with her spring housecleaning chores? Well, if you decide to save money by doing the painting yourself, better think twice. That is the advice of Fuzzy Macaskill, who had the same idea, too. Fuzzy is a good friend of mine, a kind, generous man with a heart of purest gold—and five big thumbs on each hand. The other day he had a week's vacation coming. He decided he'd be money in pocket if he spent his week repainting his home. With brush and can he attacked the kitchen and turned it a violent yellow. "Perhaps another coat would help, dear," said his wife. So Fuzzy stayed up all night and slapped on another coat. Somehow the paint seemed to get yellower near the bottom of the can. His wife took a look in the morning and said: "I don't feel well, dear. I think I'll go over to daughter's and stay with her for the rest of the week." Fuzzy, so paint-spotted he looked like a patch of dandelions, thought that would be fine. It would leave him free to assault the living room, bath and front porch. The rest of the house wasn't in need of fresh paint. At this point Fuzzy still was in love with his work. He had just finished daubing the living room when a neighbor called: "Your dog, Skippy, just ran up the street." Fuzzy caught the dog after a two-block run. When he got Skippy in the house, he tried to chase him upstairs. Skippy thought it was a great game. He ricocheted off the newly painted living room walls several times, then tripped on the cord of a big floor lamp. Down crashed the lamp—in ruins. The bathroom came next. Fuzzy was tiring. He took naps between times as he painted the walls and ceiling. The result: Three tones of an original color which Fuzzy himself could only describe as "a matter of opinion." Absent-mindedly Fuzzy sat down on a chair which he had

WHAT OTHERS ARE SAYING

WE ARE making the same mistakes today that were made before every depression in our history. We never learn from the mistakes of others. Every generation has to get its economic thumping, it seems to me. —Robert Babson, economist. THIS "cold war" could end in 20 minutes, Soviet Russia being willing, in deeds as well as words. We are not here to pass the right of independent nations to "live and let live" according to their own free choice in their own domains. —Sen. Arthur Vandenberg (R-Ohio). FREEDOM through the ages has been an inspiring word and freedom itself is a glorious thing. It is worth your while and mine to talk about freedom. If you don't talk about freedom, you won't have it to pass on to the next generation. Now is the time to talk. —Dr. John A. Krout, director, School of General Studies, Columbia University. I AM SCARED to death to go over 40 miles an hour in a car. When I feel the urge to speed, I take to the air where traffic is not so heavy. —Capt. Eddie Eickenbaker, president of Eastern Air Lines, and famous World War I ace.

President Weizmann

IT HAS BEEN well said of Dr. Chaim Weizmann that the presidency of Israel was not necessary to him, but that the filling of that post with Dr. Weizmann was a moral necessity for Israel. No other figure stands so far above party or factional discord among his own people as does Dr. Weizmann. No other figure quite so completely symbolizes the best in the Jewish struggle for a national homeland. His inauguration to the presidency of Israel is more than a consummation of his own life dream. It dramatizes the qualities of selflessness which have characterized the efforts of thousands of Jews. And their reward is neither greater nor less than his, since it is one with it. Dr. Weizmann is a great physical scientist. Naturally, he puts large store in what progress by test tube can do for Israel. Yet few men have known more intimately the power of influences beyond chemical analysis and of devo-
