Senate Favors Aid to Dutch

Only UN Sanctions Would Stop Help

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — The senate Wednesday night accepted an amendment to the European recovery extension bill which would continue American aid to the Netherlands unless the United Nations (UN) imposes sanctions against the Dutch.

The senate then ended its 11th day of debate on the measure, and Democratic Leader Scott W. Lucas, Ill., said he now is hopeful it will be passed today.

Surgested the Democratic leader might get bette, results with other tactics.

The Netherlands amendment was a compromise of a proposal by Sen. Owen W. Brewster (R-Mo.) to halt all American recovery aid to the Dutch immediately. In offering his original proposal, Brewster had pointed out that the Netherlands would receive about $360,000,000 under the bill. He said that was just about what the Dutch were spending on their Indonesian war.
