THE SAFEST AGE in life is 11, cliff-top into the old swimming according to the statisticians hole, riding a bike with "Look, of the Metropolitan Life Insur-ance Co., whose findings will Tarzan of the Apes, who has come as something of a shock to parents of 11-year-old children. ma, no hands!" In imitation of Tarzan of the Apes, who has lately come to be his idol, he swings from the roof of the front porch to the adjacent tree and thence to the garage. He confcocts strange, smoking and perhaps explosive mixtures with his chemistry set, and debates the issues of his child's world in a way that brings him home with cuts and abrasions, a black eye or two, and a happy sense eye or two, and a happy sense of accomplishment. Such are the circumstances under which 11 manages to be the safest age. The pity of it all, we guess, is that even the 11we guess, is that even the first year olds grow up to that age at which a fellow always wears his overshoes if it looks like it's go ing to rain, and wouldn't let 'et out to more than 60 on a four lane straightaway — and the Metropolitan Life Isurance Co. doesn't have to tell us how dangerous an age that is.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Q. WHAT types of cars have the right of way over all others in times of emergency? S. A. W.

A. Generally speaking, fire engines have the right of way over all other vehicles, and ambulances have the right of way over all vehicles except fire engines. Funeral processions have the right of way over all ordinary traffic. The Uniform Code and the laws of the majority of the states require that fire trucks, ambulances and similar emergency vehicles must be operated with due regard for the safety of all persons.

Q. What is the source of the water that maintains the water table? J. P. B.

A. Not all the water that falls as rain or that results from the melting of ice and snow runs off. Much of it sinks into the soil and rocks and becomes ground water. Water will sink into the ground as far as there are pores and openings, and may penetrate, it is estimated, as deep as six to 12 miles. The water table is the upper surface of the zone of the earth below which all the pores and cracks are filled with water. The height of the water table is largely influ-enced by the amount of rainfall, porosity of the soil and the slope of the land.

Of course, their abilities vary as' abilities have a habit of doing, but, to the last man-jack-or-jill of them, I got the feeling they were doing their darnedest to make sure that the pennies you plunk down on the newsstand are a sound investment. For years, I've believed that the striped-pants brigade con-sisted of dolts, dipsos and dollarhappy dans who had gotten their plushy posts by ponying up to the party in power. But, by large and in the round, the embassy bossmen I met on my trip turned out to be smart Josephs whose smartness didn't stop with the cut of their cutaways. For instance and example, take James Bruce, our embassa-dor to Argentina. Jim is a likable and well liked gent who plays the cards close to his belt buckle and refuses to take any wooden pesos. The pinkos down there accuse him of being a whiteo, and the whiteos bawl him out for being a pinko, but-as Peron and his lady have learned — this American businessman is strictly a red, white

For several years now, this big-time financier has been devoting all his time and talent to government work, and, in my opinion, it has done both him and his country nothing but good. Currently, he's passing out ERP funds to help rejuvenate some of the Communist-threatened areas of our beat up globe and, as you may have noticed, the Ruskies at the Paris Conference are beginning to talk in more civilized decibels . . . All of which is my round-
