Collegiate Players

The largest group ever initiated by National Collegiate players' Wisconsin chapter at one time entered the organization this week. Gertrude Johnson, one of the group's founders, presided at the ceremonies.

The 19 new members include three associates—Jonathan Curvin, Ronald Gee, and Thomas Aylward. The new active members are Muriel Berkson, P. George Bird, Rita Zo Brown, Constance Crosby, Mary Lynn Ozanski, Elyse Kaplan, Howard Hibbard, Sunil Misroy, Bruce Kanitz, David Hurst, Loring Mandel, David Thompson, David M. Tryouts are set for 3:30 and 7:30 p. m. both days. Buerki says that seven characters are needed for the cast. As is customary with the first play of the summer season, persons who wish to tryout need not be enrolled as students. It is necessary that those trying out be in Madison throughout June as the play goes into rehearsal immediately after being cast. It will be staged the first week in July. Tryouts will be held at the Memorial Union.

City Beaches to Open Officially on June 18

Madison bathing beaches will open officially Saturday, June 18, the day after city schools close for the summer vacation, Parks Supt. James G. Marshall announced Friday.

"The delay is regrettable, but we were unable to recruit competent personnel for an earlier opening," Marshall declared, explaining that nearly all of this year's lifeguards are students now busy with final examinations. If unusually hot weather forces an earlier use of the beaches, an effort will be made to supply unofficial part-time protection, he said.
