Q. When did the last surviving soldier of the War of 1812 die?—N. L. L.

A. The last survivor of the War of 1812 was Hiram Cronk, Ave. N. Y., who died in 1905, aged 105 years.

Q. What is the natural color of the ocean? M. S. T.

A. The true color of the ocean is a bright clear blue. This is due to the fact that the blue rays of sunlight penetrate deeper than other colors. Some of this light is scattered back upward to the eyes and appears blue because the other colors have been absorbed by the water. When the ocean appears green or another color, it is due to the presence of mud, sediment or accumulations of small vegetable or animal life.

Q. Is an employee entitled to a receipt for the amount of income tax withheld each year by his employer? J. P. C.

A. Employers are required by law in January of each year to give each employee Form W-2 showing the amount of tax withheld during the preceding year. This is in effect a receipt for the withholding tax, since it shows the amount withheld for that purpose during the year.

Q. The shortest chess game on record is said to have been won in four moves? What were these four moves? D. N.

A. The shortest possible game runs as follows: 1. P-K4, P-K4; 2. P-KK4, Q-R5 mate. It is known as the Fools Mate.

Q. What causes the sea nettle's sting? C. O. R.

A. The sea nettle is a diminutive variety of jellyfish made up of thousands of cells. Each cell contains a tiny dart. Contact causes an explosion in the cell and the dart is "fired" with such force it penetrates the skin. The darts are invisible to the eye but when a thousand or more are peppered into a few square inches of the human skin the pain is great.

SUDS AND HISTORY

Brewing Art 6200 Years Old, Researchers Claim

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (UP) Guess what—Noah took into his ark—besides people—that also rode in the Mayflower and sojourned the pilgrims.

Beer! Yes, sir, and beer also went to the South Pole with Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd on his Antarctic expedition in 1939.

These and other little known facts about beer have been compiled by the United States Brewers Foundation. They have been set forth in a little pamphlet designed to let the common man know what's behind the foam in his glass.

It shows that a gent who sides up to the bar and says "Pull one" isn't simply ordering a cooling drink. He's bending elbows with history.

Why, it says here, beer has marched step by step with man in his upward march since the dawn of time. Beer, is as old as farming and has played a bubbling role in war, science, cook-

WHAT OTHERS ARE SAYING

THE CONGRESS is squabbling over party matters and trying to embarrass each other instead of attending to the interests and welfare of the people as they were elected to do. It is disgusting to have a do-nothing Congress. It is ruining American statesmanship.

—Dr. Francis E. Townsend, author of the Townsend Plan.

SEVERAL million people are now out of jobs. We cannot escape more economic distress and unemployment unless we halt expenditures which the nation cannot afford.

—Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. (R.) of Massachusetts.

A REPORT given out by the police says that the sadist driver on the road is the middle-aged woman. I can understand that. It's a well-known fact that a middle-aged woman always tries to keep under 30.

THE MASTER planners would impose upon our country a dictatorship, an all-powerful bureaucracy. Oh, yes, there are those among us who say "It can't happen here." But it is happening here, right before our eyes, boldly, arrogantly.

—Sen. Kenneth S. Wherry (R.) of Nebraska.

the supply ran short George Washington begged the Board of War in 1777 to rush the growler for more.

Washington himself drank beer. Other members of this early day "Men of Distinction" Club were Samuel Adams, a brewer himself, Thomas Jefferson, Patrick Henry, Israel Putnam and James Madison.

How did Joseph Priestley evolve his theory on the life-giving qualities of oxygen? By studying bubbles rising to the surface of a beer vat.

Where was the first air-conditioning plant installed in America? In a brewery in Alexandria, Va., in 1880.

In 1810, the first year for which production figures are available, the American population of 7,239,881 drank 152,690 barrels of beer and ale, or 0.78 gallons per capita.

In 1948 the population had risen to 146,114,000, the consumption to 86,992,795 barrels, or a per capita record of 18.5 gallons. The industry now figures it employs 80,000 persons, buys $300,000,000 in farm products each year, pays out almost as much in salaries and some $900,000,000 in taxes.

Whether these figures will give the average beer drinker pause for thought or not, he will be interested in one thing. Beer during the American Revolution sold for about 10 cents a gallon.

"But by today's standards it was not too great a bargain," says the brewers' foundation. "It usually was heavy, cloudy and lacking in sparkle."

The first white child born in New York City, Jean Vigne, became a brewer in what is now Wall street. William Penn, the Quaker, built a brewery next to his manor house.

Soldiers in the American Revolution drew a quart of beer each in their daily rations. When

ANSWER TO QUESTION NO. 1

Better relax. Brown University psychologist Gerald Pascal had students memorize 18 nonsense syllables (words without meaning). After various periods up to 48 hours they recalled all they could. One group relaxed, the other sat up as usual. The relaxed group beat the tense group decidedly. Some relaxed subjects said the words "came without effort." One student could recall only one of the 18 words but on lying back, stretching his legs and breathing deeply, recalled eight! Stretch your legs and breathe deeply when you want to remember or else send for our booklet, "How to Improve Your Memory," sent at 15c in coin only. Plus self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Answer to Question No. 3

Probably so. It may be part of the fear natural to all animals and human beings—the fear of falling, if unsupported. This and the fear of a sudden loud noise are possibly our only natural, in-born fears. All, or nearly all, other fears seem to be acquired—mostly taught by our parents and teachers. If you gently lift a newborn babe and suddenly let it go so it falls back on the pillow it will scream with fright. When a plane drops hundreds of baby animals and humans that did not have these basic fears grew careless and perished.
