HAPPY HOST: "A round per in a round hole" — that's how Tommy Bartlett, emcee of NBC's new audience participation program "Welcome Travelers" happily describes himself. For Tommy, who plays host to thousands of travelers each week at the College Inn. Chicago, is probably the "travelin'est traveler" of them Milwaukee. He attended public grammar and high school thereand then decided to seek a career in radio. His debut was quite that of a barking dog in a dramatic program. He continued to take whatever roles were offered, and perseverance paid off, finally in 1932, when he was given his take whatever roles were offered, and perseverance paid off, finally in 1932, when he was given his own interview program.

After several years in Milwaukee, Tommy migrated to Chicago, where he appeared on many shows, including "Adam and Eve," "Jingle Jackpot," and "Mr. and Mrs."
