The Listener Talks Back 'And He's Away...Er, ah' By WILLIAM L. DOUDNA

600

(State Journal Radio Editor) Well, folks, here we are again—back at the football season.

Radio is getting all set to spend Saturday afternoons-and in a good many cases, Sunday afternoons, too-broadcasting football games to the exclusion of just about everything else. So be prepared to find some conflict between radio reports and newspaper reports on some of the games.

Listening to some of the mike boys, you'd swear that every game they do is positively the most thrilling exhibition of gridiron skill and stamina in the history of the world, and that every one-wood one of these days-despite yard gain is a masterful dis-play and often (until the sportscaster finds out where the head linesman marks the ball's position) a speedy and flashy dash for tremendous advances.

And then you pick up your newspaper the next morning (The State Journal, of courseand read about the game, and you find adv.) that the sports writers who were covering the affair found it quite dull, or at the best just an ordinary game. Who's right?

This department, perhaps prejudiced, bets on the sports writers.

You can't blame the radio boys wholly, I know one, at least one, who didn't like ballyhooing every play and building up excitement when there really wasn't any, and who preferred giving a straightforward account of the game. But the sponsor didn't like it, so he went back to the old form.

The merits of the radio giveaway case are something for lawyers at this stage, but some slight comment seems indicated here nevertheless. Recently the Billboard, theatrical trade magazine. polled us radio editors on several things, including our attitude toward giveaway showsshould they be banned or shouldn't they?

Legal aspects aside, this department's reply was to the effect that they would probkill themselves off without any outside help, FFC or otherwise. If you can find duller radio fare than the new Kate Smith show or "Add-a-Line," please let me know.
