U. S. Schools Group Asks Annual Teacher Raises

DENVER -(UP) A committee British labor permits. Sunday proposed a system of regular, annual salary increases for U.

S. school teachers school teachers.

The planned increases, said spokesmen for the national commission on teacher education and professional standards of the NEA should be based on a minimum starting salary of $2,400 a year. The latter figure was proposed by the commission three years ago and has been adopted, said Commission Chairman F. E. Engleman, Hartford, Conn., by more than 50 per cent of the schools in America.

Rita Hayworth has at least seven more pictures to make under her contract with Beckworth Productions, which she and Columbia Studios jointly own. Her boss, Harry Cohn, fresh back from seeing Mrs. Khan in Europe, reports that Rita will definitely be back in Hollywood and will make the movies. But she won't even start one of them until after her baby is born. And that's supposed to be next February.

Jimmy Wakely, the western star, is in the midst of a verbal wrangle with Capitol Records about signing new contract that would double he percentage he now makes on his discs. It may surprise you to know that Wakely's warbling on wax is so successful that for the past six months he's been Capitol's second best record seller.

Irene Hervey and Alan Jones will stay on in Europe and do 'Trojan Wine" for Arthur Rank— IF they can get one of those pesky
