Family Service, a Red-Feather service of the Madison Community Chest, will join Family Service agencies throughout the country in presenting a documentary radio series, "Family Closeup," starting Sunday at 4 p. m. over WISC. Mrs. Sophia Siebeker, director of the Madison Family Service agency, said that the 13-week series will present the problems of America families as they are, without judgment or preaching, with emphasis on the root cause of conflict. "We hope this series will help many people in Madison to understand their family problems and are not singular but are shared by many others; that the help of skilled family counselors is provided by the citizens of this community; and that the seeking of such help is in itself, an assertion of strength rather than weakness," Mrs. Siebeker said. "As with many crippling illnesses, the tensions and strains in family relationships can be prevented from having their worst effect if people understand the importance of taking preventive action in time." The initial broadcast will tell the story of a young husband faced with the possibility of losing his job. Other programs in the series will tell the stories of families with marital problems, strained relations between elderly people and the younger family, an aggressive child in conflict with parental authority, families in debt, families vainly searching for happiness.

Rooney to Star in Action Film
BY EDITH GWYNN
(State Journal Hollywood Correspondent)
HOLLYWOOD — Gene Fowler, Jr. is preparing an outdoor action movie for Mickey Rooney called "El Tigre." It's based on the Max Brand novel, "South of the Rio Grande."
Isn't the Count Jose Dorelli, mentioned by the public prints in that divorce suit of the Feodor Challaipin, Jr., the ex-spouse of Dolly O'Brien, quondam flame of Clark Gable? If so, it's the same Dorelli who is very much around the Hollywood parties with Sylvia Fairbanks Stanley lately.
Richard Talmadge, once a silent screen star, has been working as a stunt man and doing the dangerous stuff for newer stars for several years. Now he returns to acting with a featured role in "Tyrrant of the Sea" at Columbia.
Our Manhattan spy reports that Judy Garland is so much herself again that she's been doing a lot of great impromptu singing at private parties. Another who was very ill but now recovering is singer Mildred Bailey—and that will please just about anyone who ever heard her make with the music.
George O'Brien, who has been thinking out loud about making a film comeback with some independently-produced pictures, may be red-faced to learn that R.K.O. is about to re-issue a half-dozen old westerns that George starred in years and years ago!
The loveliest song in "South Pacific" has been practically ignored until very recently but is finally getting the "plugs." It's "Younger Than Spring." In case you didn't know.
Because Rudy Mate just happened into a little theater production of "I Remember Mama." Bew-
