Williamson will be heard at 10:15 p. m. Wednesdays, starting Sept. 21.

Saturday activities will start Sept. 24 with the "Gridiron Parade" at 1 p. m. After each game, WIBA and WIBA-FM will present two "Football Scoreboard" programs, the first at 5 p. m., and the second at 6:45.

Classes will be offered in free-hand drawing and perspective, oil painting lettering, and commercial art. A class for advanced students in portrait painting will meet Monday Wednesday, and Friday afternoons.

A landscape class will meet on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. A regular class in figure drawing from life will meet Monday, Wednesday, and Friday nights from 7:30 to 9:30. This class is designed for art teachers, professional artists, and adults interested in art as a hobby.

Commercial art, lettering, painting, and specialized subjects also will be offered at night.

Hollywood

The huddles that Bette Davis and producer Jack Skirball and Bruce Manning have been having turned out like this: They want her to star in an Arthur Caesar cinema called, "For Services Rendered" which they will make independently. Miss D. likes the idea—but won't sign any papers until Manning has finished writing a screen play from the story.

Meanwhile, Jim Davis, who was Bette's leading man in that dramatic "Winter Meeting" (the very mention of which sends Davis into a dither), was all packed to leave for a fling at the Broadway stage, when he was called to play the heavy role in "Caribou Trail." P. S. He took the job—but swears it's his last meanie stint.

Janis Paige, doing "The Dark Road" for Mike Frankovich in Rome, is doing a sweet and playing her first straight dramatic part.

Dr. Kinsey, who authored that best-seller about you-know-what, gave audience to Anne Sterling here the other day. She's the gal who had TV censors in an uproar over her necklines.

Now that Jack Carson and the brothers Warner are honeymooning again, he starts his new comedy starring picture this week. He'll play the title role in "Elmer the Great"—Richard Bare directing.

Glenn Swanson is listening attentively to director Sam Wood, who wants her to play a top role in "No Sad Songs for Me," which will star Margaret Sullivan at Columbia.

Big-wigs from the east who head Eagle-Lion will be here pronto to talk to Chester ("The Egg and I") Bisking about being production head of this studio. Peter Rathvon swung the deal that gave E-L the six million financing needed. Now all they need is someone to make pictures.

Myrna Torne (sister of Mel Torne) and writer Norman Winter have decided on a December wedding.

Mary Pickford and Sam Goldwyn, who squabble more than new tweeds are in a hassle again. This time it's because she refused Sam an extension of his lease on the studio property which Mr. G. uses. Miss P. owns more of it than he does. If they don't agree soon, you'll know "what makes Sammy run"—for new quarters.

Charlotte Edge Tops Platteville 4-H'ers

PLATTEVILLE — Charlotte Edge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Edge, Platteville, was recently chosen as an outstanding 4-H club member for the 1949 club year.

She was awarded an all expense trip to the State 4-H health camp at Green Lake, sponsored by the Grant County Medical Society.

Green County Women To Study Landscaping

MONROE—Landscaping will be the Green County Homemakers project for October, according to Mamie Tillem, county home agent.

Separate leader training meetings will be held for each of the six homemakers centers of the area. It was explained.

Prof. George Ziegler, landscape specialist at the University of Wisconsin, will address the meetings at Brownlow Sept. 22 and New Glarus Sept. 23.

Other gatherings will be held at the county courthouse in Monroe Sept. 29 and Oct. 12; Juda, Oct. 13, and New Glarus Oct. 15.

Why Not a Reet-Pleat for Ivan Tovarich?

LONDON—(AP)—A British men's wear journal thought up a way to end the cold war Saturday.

A zoot suit for Stalin, a drape shape for Molotov.

"The Russian sense of humor would be restored," said the magazine Tailor and Cutter.

"The Soviet would not take it self quite so seriously.

The magazine said the present garb of Russia's leaders is 25 years out of date.
