Getting Into Step With Madison

(State Journal Staff Writer)
Twice a year, radio editors go into a mental tailspin. The times: when New York and Chicago go back on daylight time, and when they get back in step with Wisconsin.

Today's the day for the latter, and during the past few days we radio editors have to readjust our thinking, to say nothing of readjusting the schedules printed in the newspapers. As we told you last spring, it isn't as bad as it used to be, because the in-creased use of tape and other recordings has kept Madison stations' schedules pretty much the same all year 'round. That is, as far as the programs which stay on all year are concerned. But last week was the real beginning of the fall and winter radio season. and lots of new shows started and plenty of "regulars" returned from summer vacations. This will continue for another week or so, but the heaviest schedule changes have been made.

This is also the season of weird gifts for radio editors. But there haven't been so many this year, so the stories from Radio Row about retrenchment appear to be well-founded. True, a birthday cake came from Fibber McGee and Molly, but there has been little else in the line

Time was when we received samples of just about every product advertised outside of autombiles and tractors.

And aspirin—which we could use.

The giveaway contest betwen the Federal Communications commission and the networks and producers is still on, and it looks from here like it might take a couple of years to get all the legal snarls untangled. With Walter Winchell, we suggest that you don't have your telephone disconnected just yet.

A couple of years ago rumors spread that Wisconsin people weren't getting in on the giveaway gravy because of state laws. At the time, we told you there was nothing to it, and since then at least two major jackpts have come this way. Latest was last Sunday's "Hollywood Calling," which was won by a woman visiting at Williams Bay.

And (boo-hoo) for the first time since the program started. I was sure I knew the answer -and I was right.

Prize radio show last week was WIBA's broadcast of the Rigadoon opening. Not because of Woody Herman's music, nor DeAlton Neher's good job of special-events announcing, but because of Roundy, State Journal sports columnist In an interview during time paid for by the Edgewater hotel, he took a crack at the dinner prices charged there!

is 5 feet high, but another man beside him has a figure only 15 inches in height! It was a custom of Egyptjan artists to make an important man look far larger than anyone else. Still another picture is of an elderly man eating his lunch in a boat. This is believed to represent the artist who decorated Ptahhopte's tomb.

That tomb is at Sakkara, a few miles from the city of Cairo. Near it is the tomb of another Egyptian, a man named Ty.

The largest room in Ty's tomb is 16 feet wide and 23 feet long. Its height is 15 feet.

Pictures of Family

The walls of the big room are adorned with pictures of Ty and his family. The rich man is shown looking at harvest scenes on his farm, and watching men build

Other scenes in Ty's tomb show him sailing along the Nile and watching dancers perform. His wife is beside him, but her figure is small compared with his.
