TIP O' THE MORNING: Want an unusual musical combination? How about Rosalie Allen, Elton Britt, and the Three Suns!

A menagerie which Barnum would have been proud to own if it had been real, not glass, has been collected by members of Blackfriars Guild for their production of "The Glass Menagerie."

Headline attraction is a unicorn (not a Pegasus), which Marion Torrey, property chairman, and Margaret Lee, her assistant, purchased along with a giraffe, pelican, reindeer, swan, stork, ram, and duckling.

Mrs. Torrey added an eagle, elephant, lamb, pigs, and fawn from her own collections, and Russell Grimes contributed dogs, bears, and rabbits, while Bernadine Stein sent cats, dogs, and elephants.

They'll be an important part of the play when it is presented at 8 p.m. Saturday in West high school auditorium.

NAMES IN THE NEWS: A water color by Dean Meeker of the University of Wisconsin art education faculty is in the 47th annual Philadelphia Water Color exhibition at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts.

Sherry Abrams, who is directing "The Duchess of Malfi," is studying realism in Elizabethan drama while doing graduate work at the university.

Martha M. Curti, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Merle E. Curti, is a violinist with the Oberlin College Conservatory orchestra, and will play in its concert Sunday, Nov. 13, in Finney chapel, Oberlin, O.

Betty Cass will begin her 16th annual series of broadcasts on WIBA Monday. For two weeks, she'll be heard at 10:15 a. m. Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. Then, until Christmas, she'll be on the air at the same hour Monday through Friday.

Earl Fessler has received word that his FM station, WFOV, has been granted its final license by the federal communications commission.
