in commemoration of the 100,000th farm
connected by WISCONSIN BUSINESS MANAGED ELECTRIC COMPANIES
A milestone in the electrification of rural Wisconsin
The seed for this achievement was sown some 25 years ago by the business-managed electric companies in their electric-test farms and other experimental projects which established the value of electricity to the farm.
Pioneers then—and pioneers still—the business-managed tax-paying companies will continue to seek out methods of making their service of more value to existing farms and extend it to more farms.
