Ancient Autos to Parade, Race on Video Sunday

For the second successive year, KTSL will telecast the annual show of the Southern California Heralds Carriage Club from the General Motors plant, at Southgate, with a specially arranged Sunday program, from 2:00 until 3:30 p. m.

The colorful spectacle has been specially set up for the TV crew to cover the high lights of the all-day event which, incidentally, is the 12th annual get-together. Special events to be picked up by the cameras are the "Back Up" race, low gear race and the parade of over 100 ancient automobiles.

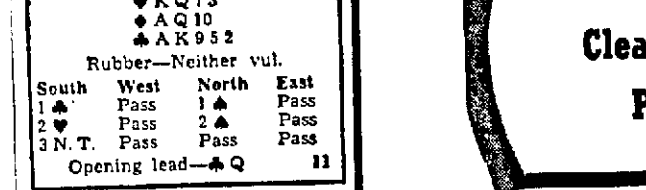

Special class races between antiquated sport model cars, letterboard balancing stunts, and others are also included in the TV portion of the event.

Blocks Opponents' Strategy

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
Written for NEA Service

I watched Leo Root, a New York champion, play today's hand in a rubber game.

He won the opening lead of the queen of clubs with the king. He led the queen of spades and both opponents let him hold the trick. Leo led a small heart to the jack and East won the trick with the ace. East returned a small heart which Leo won with the queen. The queen of diamonds was played and overtaken in the dummy with the king. The jack of spades was played and East won with the ace. Leo discarded the deuce of clubs from his hand. East returned the ten of hearts which Leo won with the king. He played the ten of diamonds and overtook it in dummy with the jack.

His next play was the ten of spades on which he discarded his ace of diamonds. West won this trick with the king and returned the jack of clubs. Now East had a choice of plays, but it so happened that he discarded a heart. Leo refused to win the club trick and West was helpless. Had East retained the high heart Leo would have won the jack of clubs with the ace. He then would have put East in the lead with a heart and East would have had to put Leo back in the dummy with either a diamond or a spade.

Really, a well-played hand, but one that you expect a champion to make.

Music With Meals to Be TV Subject
Chorus to courses will be demonstrated Tuesday afternoon on Rolly Langley's "Report to Mrs. America" at 3:15, with Jack Meakin, television-radio personality and composer-arranger, emphasizing the importance of correct music with meals. Soft, soothing music aids digestive processes, Meakin claims, besides acting as background for table chat, covering the rattle of cutlery and the chomping of jaws.
