

Hollywood Sends Blyth and Gay Greetings!

Here's a bright and merry Christmas wish from Ann Blyth, as bright and merry a lass as decorates the movie screen. The lovely star's latest movie, "Free for All," comes to the Majestic Theater Thursday along with a vaudeville troupe on the stage. The lively comedy stars her with Robert Cummings.

Actors Get Rattled
 HOLLYWOOD. — There was some rattling good behind the scenes drama in the intense heat of the Santa Susanna Mountains where Columbia's Technicolor outdoor drama, "The Palomino," is being shot.
 A sequence required Jerome Courtland and Joseph Calleia to work their way up a steep canyon to an overhanging ledge. As the two actors reached the half-way mark, the sinister sound of an angry rattlesnake put an abrupt stop to their climb.
 "I didn't know that the script called for a rattlesnake in this scene," young Courtland casually remarked.
 "It doesn't," Calleia quietly replied.
 It was then that the world's record for climbing down a cliff was probably broken by the two frantic actors.
