The trip also will include enseries, and others.

RADIO STUDY: The Wiscon-sin Association for Better Radio Walters won't be mad when "Sum-Listening will begin its annual listening project Jan. 22. Members will select one station each and listen to it for two 2-hour periods, evaluating the programs and later reporting their opinions. The listeners will summarize the station's good and bad points, and rate each broadcast in grades from "poor" to "excellent," explaining their ratings on specially-prepared cards. They will also report on how much time they think each station should give to certain types of programming—music, forums, news, etc.

The listening period will end Feb. 5. Chairmen of secretaries of local units of the organization will compile the ratings and pref-erences, and will send a report to each station and to Leslie Spence, 423 N. Pinckney st. Miss Spence
