Army Clinic Set at Brooke

A two-day clinic in connection with the Army's aluminum brace program will be presented at Brooke General Hospital Thursday and Friday.

The clinic will be conducted by Maj. Robert E. Block, assistant chief of Walter Reed General Hospital's orthopedic section, and Lt. James N. Calway of its brace and limb shop.

Officer Candidates To Hear Psychologist

Dr. Saul B. Sells, chief of clinical psychology at the School of Aviation Medicine, Randolph Air Force Base, will address the new 50-A officers candidate class at Lackland A.F.B. Tuesday morning.

The lecture, pertaining to the problems of personnel adjustments, is a regular part of orientation of the new students in the first part of their six-month course. The 50-A class has 174 members.

SYMPHONY NOTES SET FOR KTSA

A new "good music" program, "Notes from Your San Antonio Symphony," will begin on KTSA Sunday at 2:30 p.m. The 30-minute, weekly series will be given over to recordings, with program notes by Harold Carr, KTSA program director, and interviews with personalities in the world of music.

"Notes from Your San Antonio Symphony" for the next four Sunday afternoons will be concerned with the four productions in the sixth annual Grand Opera Festival, which opens at Municipal Auditorium on February 11.

This Sunday's program includes an interview with Musical Director Max Reiter of the San Antonio Symphony and four popular excerpts from "Carmen," the first opera in the Festival. Music will include the "Habanera," the "Flower Song," "Micaela's Air" and the well-known "Song of the Toreador."

On ensuing Sundays music from "The Marriage of Figaro," "La Traviata" and "Tristan and Isolde" will be heard, along with informative notes about each opera.

Following the Opera Festival, "Notes from Your San Antonio Symphony" will serve as a preview of the Symphony's regular Saturday night concerts.
