TIP O' THE MORNING: Boris Karloff will be in the cast of "Peter Pan," with Jean Arthur, when the Barrie play is revived on Broadway soon.

A harpist, a singer, a string duo, and a Western musical group will be the Madison acts appearing with Horace Heidt at the Parkway theater Thursday night.

They are: Marilyn "Cocky" Hecht, swing harpist who plays over WIBA at 10:30 p. m. Fridays;

Jean Henriksen, popular singer who is employed in the circulation department of Madison News-Papers, Inc.;

Dennis Crabtree, "hot" violinist, and Charles Johnson, guitarist; and The Badger Ramblers, who play Western music.

Miss Hecht and the Ramblers will appear in the 6:30 p. m. show and Johnson will be on the bill for the 9 p. m. performance.

Crabtree and Johnson were half of a four-man combination which won a "Talent Quest" contest at the Parkway last season.

The audiences will vote at each show, and each winner will receive a cash prize. Heidt also will consider the acts for future broadcasts, but makes no promises that they will get radio spots just because they won the Madison auditions.

John Murphy, Heidt's talent scout, heard a total of 135 acts in two nights during audition at the

Turners to Mark 95th Anniversary at Dinner Sunday

The Madison Turners, a society that is two years older than the city of Madison will hold its 95th anniversary dinner Sunday night in Turner Hall.

According to early historians, the Turners organization formerly known as the Madison Turners, was formed Feb. 24, 1855.

Turner records show that the first Turner came into existence in 1854. In either case the group is older than Madison which was not incorporated as a city until 1856.

Included on the program Sunday night will be a talk with color slides by Prof. Lowell H. Laudon, of the University of Wisconsin, geology department, and a gymnastic exhibition.

The group will honor a 25-year member, Fred Bartsch, at the dinner. County Judge George Kroneke, Jr., will be toastmaster.

Room 125, Central high school.
