Moravian Church to Close Teaching Mission

A five-day teaching mission closed Wednesday night in the Glenwood Moravian church, 725 Gilmore st. when leaders of the congregation met with the Rev. John S. Greenfeldt, Bethlehem, Penn. the mission director, to consider plans for enlarging the church's program to meet the needs of a growing West side community.
 Mr. Greenfeldt is the general secretary of the Christian education board of the Moravian church, and has been in Madison since last Friday directing the various phases of the mission.
 The mission began with a self study of the present program and the unused evangelistic potential of the Glenwood church. Members of the official boards of the church, officers of all organizations, and the teachers and officers of the Sunday church school participated in the study.
 On Sunday 30 members of the congregation participated in a religious census of the community around the Glenwood church. Monday night the director conducted a training session in the technique of fellowship visitation, and fellowship teams made their first calls Tuesday night. The largest number of unchurched persons in the area was discovered to be in the 20 to 40-year age bracket. The Rev. Frederick Wolf, pastor of the church, said.

Western Electric Union Volunteers to Hold Off Strike

Western Electric workers have volunteered to "withhold strike action in Wisconsin" if the state names an arbitrator to settle their dispute. Gov. Rennebohm announced Tuesday.
 Rennebohm said the offer was made in a letter from Henry Mayer, attorney for Division 6 of the CIO Communication Workers of America (CWA). The governor said the union wants the state to invoke the compulsory arbitration provisions of its utility anti-strike law.
 The threatened nationwide telephone strike of Western Electric workers last week was delayed under a 60-day truce requested by Pres. Truman.
 The governor turned the letter over to the Wisconsin Employment Relations Board (WERB). The WERB twice sought injunctions to keep Western Electric workers from picketing telephone exchanges when their strike appeared imminent. Both requests were held up when the threatened strike was delayed.
 WERB Chairman Lawrence Gooding said he would not comment on the offer until the board has had a chance to study it.

Francis Higgins, president of the line, also announced that Wisconsin Central had operated profitably during 1949, making up for all losses experienced since the beginning of operation.

Your Madison Newspaper
 Carrier-Salesman is Tops Among Teen-Agers!
 He's the Owner and Operator of a Prosperous Business—
 His Newspaper Route!
 NO WONDER your newspaper carrier-boy is the envy of his many young friends. Already, he's a successful businessman in a small way—managing a growing newspaper route, from which he receives increasing profits to spend for sports, school books, clothes, good times, and to save toward a college education.
 Besides, he's getting a flying start toward success in the career of his choice, by gaining practical business experience in his spare time. As he makes deliveries, collects money, keeps records and obtains new customers, he learns basic business methods and forms sound habits which will help him step ahead faster than lads who lack this valuable teen-age training.
 BOYS! Step out in front by getting a newspaper route of your own. It will bring you extra earnings to enjoy today, and the extra training you'll need for advancement tomorrow. Ask the Circulation Department about it!
