TIP O' THE MORNING: Yes, the Basil Ruysdael in the film "Carriage Entrance" is the same man who was an operatic basso, then a radio-network announcer. He has just been cast in an important role in "Alias Mike Fury," starring Victor Mature.

Lee Tracy has auditioned a theater commentary show for Mutual, Radio Daily reports. The "Oscar" awards in Hollywood on Mar. 23 will be aired by ABC.

The Hollywood Reporter says that the talent cost for CBS' Easter variety show, featuring Bob Hope, will top $100,000.

Sara Berner, dialect comedienne of the Jack Benny show, may have her own comedy stanzas on NBC, the Billboard says.

Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy will do an experimental television show on film "mostly for our own study," Bergen says.

It's strictly a rumor, but Hollywood hears that Howard Hughes is negotiating for purchase of the ABC network.

Jack Paar (remember him?) may be Eddie Cantor's summer substitute on "Take It or Leave It." And the gossip department also hears that Dick Powell's detective series will move into the Harris-Faye spot for the summer.

Dave (ex-Milwaukee) Willock and Cliff Arquette not only write, direct, and act in their television show—they build the sets, too.

Jack Carson, another ex-Milwaukeean, will be Perry Como's guest on "Supper Club" Mar. 23.

Most festivals have queens, but the Orange Blossom festival at Lindsay, Calif., will have a king—Harold "Gildersleeve" Peary.

Dennis O'Keefe may star in a CBS series about treasury agents. The Billboard says that Bob Hope's 1950 income as an entertainer will top $1,600,000—not including receipts from oil, baseball, etc.

Despite all reports to the contrary, "Amos 'n' Andy" has not been canceled and will continue for its present sponsor.

It is understood that NBC has a summer sponsor set for Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis.

Jack (Queen for a Day) Bailey will tape a number of his "Comedy of Errors" Mutual programs within the next few weeks to allow him to make a personal appearance tour with the "Queen" show early in April.

Garry Moore is moving his family to New York, which indicates that he has reached an agreement with CBS as to his future status with the network.

The story of a Hungarian mother's attempt to marry off her seven daughters will be told in Central high school's spring play "Seven Sisters," to be presented Friday, Mar. 31.

Complications arise from the fact that the eldest must be married first.

The cast chosen by Mrs. Elaine Edwards, director, will consist of Janet Raffel, Jerome Goodrich, Jane Wheeler, Carol Mack, Janice Sweet, Barbara Loos, Janice Hilton, Jean Kittleson, Bonnie Anderson, Dave Schrader, Bill Fotes, Stan Hershleider, Dennis Crabtree, and Vernie Lopau.
