The following programs are compiled from reports provided by the broadcasters. No responsibility assumed for last-minute changes which sometimes are made.

DIAL LITES — TONIGHT

6:30—KFI—Want the lowdown on the flying saucers and the little men that pilot them? From a real authority? Listen to Fibber McGee tonight.

7:00—KNX—"The Sword of Cebu" becomes a magic carpet for the "Adventures of Philip Marlowe" tonight. In just one half hour Marlowe is shunted from the Philippines to a shrine in Siam without ever leaving Los Angeles.

7:30—KECA—If you missed the Academy Awards, cheer up. . . . William Tusher anticipated your plight. . . . Tonight he brings you a tape-recorded on-the-spot interview with the top-Oscar winning movie stars in their first flush of triumph.

8:00—KECA—Dwight Eisenhower has recently made us all realize that this is surely the "Time for Defense." . . . To find out what is being done to assure the adequacy of U. S. defense preparations, listen to this interview with the personnel at New York's Port of Embarkation.

9:30—KHJ—When two insurance undercover men meet an untimely end, Lt. Britt is called upon to investigate and solve the case of "Death on the Waterfront," one of the "Official Detective" series.

TELE-TIPS

7:30—KTLA—(5)—Dave O'Brien and Walter Catlett both appear in "The Man Who Walked Alone," but unless you see this film you won't know which one it is.

8:00—KLAC—(13)—Play ball! Tonight is the start of the baseball season on television, as the Hollywood team meets Portland for this week's games.

8:00—KNBH—(4)—Milton Berle returns to emcee his "Star Theater." After a vacation in Florida he should be in fine fettle to greet Lee Tracy and Hoagy Carmichael, his guests tonight.

9:00—KTTV—(11)—Alan Young, that perennial boy, takes his Scout troop on a hike and then switches to a movie theater where he is found bashfully entertaining his girl friend. We are sure he is a fine addition to the television scene.

Heidt Auditions End Tonight

Tonight is local talent's last opportunity to audition for a possible appearance with the Horace Heidt show, which will appear here on Friday, April 14, under the sponsorship of the Long Beach Kiwanis Club for the benefit of underprivileged children.

Young professional and amateur talent in this area will audition at 7:30 p. m. at the new Masonic Temple, 835 Locust. This opportunity is open to all talented young people over 14 years of age either professional or amateur. Group acts are limited to four people and all those auditioning must bring their own music and accompanist.

Tickets for the April 14th stage and broadcast show are now on sale at the Municipal Auditorium box office.

Mona Freeman Wants Grown-up Comedies

Mona Freeman, who recently completed a teen-age role in Paramount's "Dear Wife," wants to act her age on the screen. She's 23, has been married more than three years and has a 2-year-old daughter and she thinks it's time to quit the bobby-soxers.

However, Mona leaves herself an "out." "I won't mind playing more teen-agers if the roles are exceptionally good," she said.

Mona's ambition is to do comedies of the sort that the late Carole Lombard played so well.

Although she has been cast as a teen-ager in a half-dozen or so pictures, Mona recently acquitted herself nicely in adult roles in both Paramount's "Streets of Laredo" and William Wyler's "The Heiress." But neither offered her the comedy opportunities she desires.

Slim With Smiley

Slim Duncan, Columbia Records western recording star, has been cast by Columbia Pictures in a comedy singing role in "Texas Dynamo," starring Charles Starrett and Smiley Burnette.

Trick Count, Noting Bidder's Play Are Musts for Defense

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
Written for N. E. A. Service

Counting your tricks is as important in defense as it is for the declarer. Another and more difficult point in defense is to learn to read the declarer's holding from what he does or does not do. Careful observation and clever defense defeated declarer's apparently good contract on today's hand.

West's king of clubs was allowed to win the first trick, and he continued with the four of clubs, which South ruffed with the deuce of hearts. Declarer then led a small diamond to dummy's queen and returned a heart, playing the jack from his own hand.

West won the trick with the ace of hearts, and decided that his best play was to lead a small heart back. Declarer won this with the nine-spot and cashed the ace and king of diamonds, discarding two of dummy's spades.

Now declarer attempted to make a clever safety play. He led the deuce of spades. The rule, of course, is "second hand low"—but West was a good defensive player and he started to analyze declarer's holding from what he had done and had not done.

He remembered that when declarer was in the dummy with the queen of diamonds, he had not attempted to take the spade finesse; therefore he did not hold the ace and queen of spades. West also knew that South held no more diamonds; otherwise he would have attempted to ruff his losing diamond with dummy's last heart.

Therefore, if South held six hearts originally, he must still hold in his hand at this point the ace and one spade. This would leave East with the singleton queen. If West played low on the deuce of spades, East would win the trick with the queen. He would have nothing but a club or a diamond to return.

West therefore played the king of spades on the deuce and returned a trump. South had to concede a spade trick for the loss of his contract.
