O'CONNOR in story of surgery's

Orpheus
FEATURE: Cheaper by the Dozen
TYPE: Comedy, from a true story
CAST: Frank Bunker Gilbreth, Clifton Webb; Mrs. Lillian Gilbreth, Myrna Loy; Ann Gilbreth, Jeanne Crain, and Ernestine Gilbreth, Barbara Bates.

REVIEWER: Dorothy French
STORY: In 1921 efficiency expert Frank Gilbreth neatly arranged his 11 children in his Pierce Arrow and moved, untroubled, from Providence, R. I., to Montclair, N. J. There the family expands to an even dozen, and copes satisfactorily with an epidemic of whooping cough, the growing pains of teenage daughters, the representative of birth control league, the comments of awed onlookers, and death.

HIGH POINTS: The script... Myrna Loy convincing and heart-warming as the mother of 12... Father Gilbreth takes his seven oldest children to the principal of the grade school to enroll five and display two "to show you the kind of father we're raising at our house..."

LOW POINTS: Technical color wasted except in showing up the family's varying shades of red hair... The possible mistaking of Clifton Webb, who more often seemed like the haughty bachelon of his Mr. Belvedere role, than like an understanding, though eccentric father of a dozen children... Family relationships perhaps too ideal to be convincing.

VERDICT: A sure source of laughs now and chuckles in the future, with perhaps a lesson in family living thrown in.

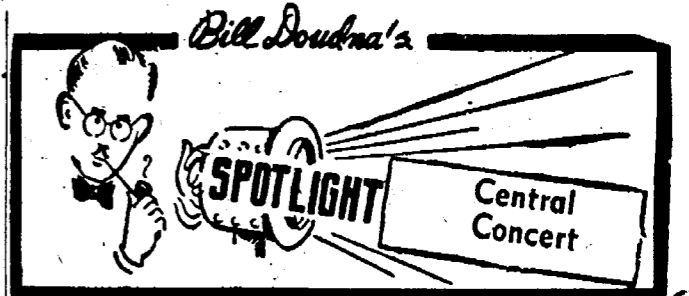

Madison
FEATURE: Tight Little Island.
Type: Quaint comedy that is practically unique—it didn't cost a million dollars to produce and there's not a single big name in the cast.

REVIEWER: Helen Madison.
CAST: Capt. Waggett, Basil Rathford; Sgt. Odd, Bruce Steen; Peggy, Joan Greenwood; George Campbell, Gordon Jackson.

STORY: Catastrophe—a ghastly and soul-searing—strikes the lonely Scottish isle of Todday in the midst of the war. The island runs completely out of whisky. The villagers withdraw to their cottages and sit in corners, brooding. Women weep and once-kindly men snarl. School children write pitiful essays on the tragedy. One venerable Scot takes himself to his bed to die.

HIGH POINTS: The news of the dreadful drought comes to Todday and the men of the island totter away to face their sorrow alone... 100 per cent of the hamlet's male population races to boats at midnight to relieve the sinking ship of its cargo; then the church clock sounds the start of the Sabbath, and the men—conscience surmounting thirst—sadly turn back... the whisky salvaged at last, the Scots go on a glorious drunk until an officious Englishman takes it on himself to report the situation to the customsmen... and the villagers take desperate measures to protect their treasure.

VERDICT: Delightful.

TIP O' THE MORNING: Under orders from the station owner, WFOV staff members always play all of a record—never fade it out before it's finished, even though it might send a program beyond its scheduled end. To remind them, there's a sign on the studio timepiece: "To hell with the clock—finish the record."

Three Central high school musical organizations will give their annual spring concert at 8 p. m. Friday in the school auditorium, with Darleen McCormick and Douglas Steensland conducting.

Carol Saivre, a member of the orchestra, will be piano soloist in Charles Williams' "The Dream of Olwen."

Here's the program:
Orchestra: "Procession of the Sardar," Ippolitow-Iwanow; "Sara-bande," Handel; "Pavane" for strings and woodwind quartet, Byrd; "The Dream of Olwen," Williams; "The Great Gate of Kiev," Moussorgsky.

A Cappella choir: "O Lovely Heart," Robertson; "Bless Ye the Lord," Iwanow-Wilhouzky; "The Sweet Rose in June," Rowley; "Old Joe Clark," Winstead; "Ride the Chariot," arranged by Smith. Concert band: "His Honor," a march, Fillmore; "The Barber of Seville" overture, Rossini; "17 Come Sunday" march, Williams; "Pavane," Ravel; "Wintergreen for President," Gershwin; "March of Youth," Olivadoti.

Steenland will conduct the band and orchestra and Miss McCormick will direct the choir.

AND ON THE AIR: The Central band will present a "pop" concert on WIBA at 3 p. m. Sunday as part of the "Madison School Concerts" series.

Besides band music, the program in West Bend.

8:15 p. m.—Sen Joseph McCarthy (WFOV): reports from Washington.

Quiz
7 p. m.—Questions (WKOW): Wilbur Shaw, guest.

Farm Programs
11 a. m.—Wisconsin Farm and Home Hour (WIBA): Kenneth Buchholtz on "Fight Weeds This Spring and Summer"; Dane County Homemakers chorus; "Rural Observer"; Don Wilkinson; news; weather.

12 m.—National Farm and Home Hour (WIBA): advice on adequate insurance coverage... American Farmer (WLC): corn-borer report.

12:30 p. m.—Farm Program (WHA): "Chick Peeding," W. W. Cravens; "4-H Club of the Air," V. V. Varney.

For Children
10:05 a. m.—Let's Pretend (WBBM): "The Queen Who Couldn't Make Spice Nuts."

Miscellaneous
10 a. m.—Homemakers (WHA): "Invitation to Reading," Helen Northrup; "Homemakers at Work," Anita Gardlach; "Home Beautiful" (WKOW): "Perfection Bathroom."

Despite Drunk Test, Proctor Dismisses Tipsy Driving Count

Declaring that "physical evidence" overruled the police drunk-o-meter test, Superior Judge Roy H. Proctor Friday dismissed a tipsy driving charge against Stanley E. Anderson, 43, of 119 N. Broom st., operator of Stanley's theater restaurant, 226 State st.

Anderson's car struck William Griffith, 21, of 5208 Interlake dr., in the 600 block on Williamson street, 10 days ago, as Griffith stepped into the street from his stalled car.

Griffith was still reported in "serious" condition Friday night at Methodist hospital.

Police Investigator Martin Kelly testified in superior court that he had taken Anderson to police headquarters after the accident for a "balloon" or drunk-o-meter test because he "smelled liquor on his breath."

The "meter" test measured 2.43, and a quantitative analysis made by the city chemist registered borderline intoxication for driving.

In dismissing the charge against Anderson, Proctor pointed out the variance between witnesses' testimony and the condition Anderson should have been in to test 2.87 if the drunk-o-meter test was accurate.

A 3-point test indicates alcoholism "bordering on the unconscious stage," Proctor said.

"I will continue to rely on the drunk-o-meter tests only to the extent that they are corroborated by physical evidence," Judge Proctor declared.

6,000 Watch as 23 Area Bands Strut Their Stuff

MONROE — More than 6,000 persons witnessed 23 high school bands parade along Monroe's main streets Friday afternoon in the largest and most successful music festival ever held here.

More than 2,500 high school musicians took part in the procession which covered a route from the high school past Turner hall, counterclockwise around the city's square, and up 11th street past the postoffice.

Chilly weather failed to lighten the crowd which witnessed the parade from every available vantage point, including the tops of cars. With clear skies camera fans had a field day "snapping" the bands, players and majorettes from every conceivable angle.

The bands marched in the following order:

Class D—Black Earth; Brooklyn; Cambridge; Madison Edge-wood; Gratiot; Orfordville, and Verona.

Class C—Albany; Argyle; Belleville; Blanchardville; Brodhead; Clinton; Middleton; Monticello; New Glarus; Oregon, South Wayne and Sun Prairie.

Class B—Evanville.

Class A—DeForest; Milton, and Monroe.

Parade judges were Fred Han-neman, Mr. Horeb; Frederick Par-ry, Beaver Dam, and Robert Johnson, Waupun.

In all, 26 schools participated in the tournament, held Thursday and Friday. Not sending bands, but entered in vocal and instru-mental solo and ensemble work were: Oakwood Jr. high school, Oregon; Leota School for Girls, Evanville, and the Juda high school.

City Gain on State Income Tax Ruling Estimated at $2,000

Madison will gain about $2,000 to $3,000 yearly in its share of state income taxes if Circuit Judge Alvin C. Reis' decision in Milwaukee's suit against State Budget Director C. Giesel survives a probable supreme court test, City Finance Director George Forster said Friday afternoon.

Forster said his figure was a "rough estimate" based on the ratio of the city's share to the total of state income taxes.

Madison received $930,000 of the state income tax distribution to municipalities last year and the 1950 budget estimates receipts of $950,000 for this year.

Reis, in a suit brought by the city of Milwaukee, ruled that Giesel acted without authority in making extra deductions in addition to income tax collection ex-penses before payments were made to the cities.

Milwaukee claimed it lost $45,000 through Giesel's action.

Madison did not intervene officially in a party in the suit, but City Atty. Harold E. Hanson par-ticipated in the final argument as a "friend of the court."

Woman Files Suit Against Hugh Casey

NEW YORK (U.P.)—A tall brun-nette baseball fan who said her liking for the Brooklyn Dodgers led into parties with ballplayers filed a paternity suit Friday against Pitcher Hugh Casey.

Hilda Weissmann, 25, charged the big right-hander fathered her little Michael H. Abrams, born to her last Nov. 2.

"I thought he'd divorce his wife and get married," she said.

In Atlanta, Casey said he had heard last December that Miss Weissmann intended to name him as the father of the child but she said he told her to go ahead and sue because "I had nothing to do with it."

"I know the girl," Casey said. "She used to hang around the ball park and the ball players in Brook-lyn, and came into my bar and grill once in a while. But that's all."

Middleton Scouts Find Stolen Office Machine

A group of Middleton Boy Scouts on a hike discovered the cash register and filing machine stolen Mar. 24 from the Holmes Implement Co., Middleton, sheriff's officials reported Friday.

The youths found the stolen of-fice machine in an abandoned stone quarry just southward of the village limits. The thieves had broken it open and stole $18.

A 225-pound safe which also was stolen Mar. 24 from the Den-ner and Tiedeman garage, Middle-ton, was found by sheriff's rd., about 3 miles south of Middleton.

The door of the safe had been sledged off and was not found. The thieves took $51 from it, but left several valuable papers, Un-der sheriff Elmer Ottum said.

U.W. Lutheran Group Announces Speakers

Three men have been selected to speak at the final indoor sup-per meeting of the school year of the University of Wisconsin Luth-eran Student assn. in their stu-dent house at 228 Langdon st.

They are The Rev. Reuben Gor-nitzka, Milwaukee, pastor of Our Savior's church and former Mad-ison Lutheran church; Dr. Glen Tut-tle, medical missionary to the Belgian Congo who is head of the student volunteer movement for Christian missions and a mem-ber of the American Baptist For- eign Mission society, and J. K. Jensen, Janesville businessman and former treasurer of the United Lutheran church's north-west synod.

Sturdy to Complete Tour of Schools May 1

Sturdy, the popular puppet who encourages Madison children to brush their teeth and adopt other good health habits, will finish his tour of city schools May 1 at St. Joseph's, Mrs. Esther Haas, dental educator, announced Friday.

"After that he'll read his mail," Mrs. Haas said.

Sturdy has visited 18 schools so far this year. Next Monday he will be at Sherman school, Wednesday at Marquette, and Thursday at Lincoln.

He has received thousands of letters from school children in the contest to choose a name for the new kitten, exact opposite of "Suppy" the superstitious cat, who joined the cast of the puppet show this season, Mrs. Haas reported.

Cashed Forged Check, Man Given Probation

Gerald Alex Fjelstad, 43, Mad-ison, was placed on one year's probation Friday by Superior Judge Roy H. Proctor for cashing a $37 forged check at the Nation-al Tea Co. food store, 1202 S. Park st.

Police alleged that the check was written by Lowell Olday, 25-year-old Madison man, who was sent to jail Thursday to await sen-tence after pleading guilty to forging three other checks for $122 and cashing them at the firm's same stores on S. Park st. and at 2117 Sherman ave.

Construction Worker Injured in Fall at U.W.

Leonard Schullenburg, 47, Cl., Plains construction worker, was hospitalized Friday after he fell from a scaffolding on which he was working at the new Univer-sity of Wisconsin engineering building.

Police said they took Schullen-berg to Madison General hospital with back and rib injuries which he received in the fall.
