The following programs are compiled from reports provided by the broadcasters. No responsibility assumed for last-minute changes which sometimes are made.

DIAL LITES — TONIGHT

5:30—KECA—"Sky King" investigates the case of the "Missing Witness." He must be found to prove the innocence of a man accused of holding up a bank. A pipe belonging to a recently discharged employee is the only clue.

6:00—KNX—"Mrs. Mike" (Gene Tierney), is the story of a society girl who is transported to the wilderness with her new husband (Dick Powell). How she overcomes her fear and adjusts to this new life is the "Radio Theater" presentation tonight.

7:00—KHJ—A city set free from the law by the overflowing of the Columbia River sets the scene for the drama entitled "Conspiracy" on the "Murder by Experts" series.

8:30—KFI—"The Railroad Hour" presents the musical comedy "The Prince of Pilsen." Gordon MacFae and his guest Nadine Conner take the principal roles. Familiar tunes from this opera are the "Stein Song" and "Tale of a Sea Shell."

9:00—KNX—As a yarn-spinning mailman whose reputation for tall tales nearly costs him his life, James Stewart stars in the mystery titled "Nor Gloom of Night" on the premiere broadcast of "Hollywood Star Playhouse."

TELE-TIPS

6:25—KNBH (4)—Comedy Theatre shows another Charlie Chaplin classic, "In the Park."

7:00—KECA (7)—The J. Arthur Rank race horse picture, "Calendar" makes its world television premiere on "Triple Theater." Also to be seen is the full length film "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi," with Mary Carlisle and a western, "Wrangler's Roost."

9:30—KTLA (2)—One of the most exciting plays in the "Hands of Murder" series is the "Hiroshima Ghost," which tells the story of a victim of the atomic destruction, who returns to tell of the horrendous happening.

11:00—KTTV (11)—James Roosevelt will be the featured speaker on the next three "770 On the Air" telecasts. His topic tonight is "Transportation and Highways."

Defensive Play Lead No Help to You as Declarer

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NBA Service

The habits you form in defending the lead, led the 10 of spades instead of the queen.

In the first room, when the spade queen was led, West's play of the king did not reveal the complete trump situation. In the second room, when the 10 was led, West's play of the king told the whole story. West would have played a small trump if he had

In both rooms, the West player opened the queen of hearts. The defenders rattled off three heart tricks and then shifted to clubs. Declarer was in, and it was up to him to take the rest of the tricks.

In the first room, South's first step was to lead the queen of spades. West covered with the king, and dummy won with the ace.

Still feeling pleased with the success of the trump finesse, declarer led another trump from dummy. East played the six, and South played the jack. When West failed to follow suit, South moaned and groaned. East was sure to win a trump trick, which would set the contract.

When the match was over, the luckless South player of the first room discovered how four spades had been made in the other room. The other declarer had, after

Quiz Show Marks Tenth Birthday

NEW YORK (AP) Radio anniversaries are coming thick and fast. Next in line is Take It or Leave It, the quiz show that added "The $64 Question" to popular expressions. On the April 30 broadcast it will be ten years old.

The program, not the first of the Q and A. broadcasts but as long-running as any of them, had its introduction on CBS and then moved to NBC on Aug. 3, 1941. It brought Bob Hawk to national attention as a quiz-master, maintained Phil Baker in the same role for several years and had Garry Moore on the job before Eddie Cantor took over. Cantor, who is leaving in June to retire, says the television will be succeeded by Jack Parr, comedian.

While all of these changes have been going on, Edith Oliver has continued in the assignment that really is the backbone of the program. It's the task of preparing the questions used on the air.

Interest in Norwalk Newspaper Sold

NORWALK, April 24. Purchase of substantial interest in the Norwalk Call and Norwalk Call-Advertiser is announced by Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Donovan, former owners of the publishing plant.

Mr. and Mrs. Donovan will be associated with W. G. McGiffin, who retained a part interest.

Idled Workers Ask U. S. Aid

PITTSBURGH, April 24. (AP) Five hundred furloughed steelworkers held a rally at which the federal government was asked to help get their jobs back by underwriting freight car orders.

Philip Soghnien, member of the C. I. O. United Steelworkers' grievance committee, said at the mass meeting yesterday the men have been living on unemployment compensation and relief since the Pressed Steel Car Co. shut down its McKees Rocks plant last August.

A total of 2200 steelworkers were furloughed at that time. The company blamed the closing on a lack of orders for railroad freight cars.

Stewart Granger Says He's Lonesome in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, April 24. (AP) Stewart Granger, the British heart-throb, is the latest handsome bachelor to set local ladies all a-twitter. But Granger doesn't twitter back. He's lonesome.

He's also tall, dark, and built like a wistful-eyed Jimmy Stewart. And if you think that doesn't dazzle the dolls around this town, you'd better have yourself another think.

And he's not exactly hard to get. Being lonesome doesn't make Granger anti-female.

"I just happen to like women," he shrugs.

But he's lonesome for his kids. He has two, a 5½-year-old girl, Jimmie, and a 4½-year-old boy, Lindsay, back in England and he hasn't seen 'em for months now.

"They're with my ex-wife," Granger explained. "And I'm trying to figure out a way to talk her into moving to Hollywood so I can see them often. Being a bachelor's fine — up to a point."

EMPTY HOTEL

"But sooner or later you have to take those beautiful women home and come back to an empty hotel room. Maybe I was a family man too long. But I find it a rather lonely life."

"Those beautiful women" have, at one time or another, included every star-eyed glamour gal from Elizabeth Taylor (in her pre-Hilton days) to Betty Hutton (in her post-Briskin period).

Granger had the same effect on British bobby-soxers. Every time he stuck his head out in public back home, the gals mobbed him.

"But I'm against an actor making too many personal appearances," he said. "It's disillusioning. They look you over and say: 'Oh, look how gray he's getting.' Or: 'Doesn't he ever shave?' Or: 'Heaven — he has a pimple on his chin!'"

M. G. M., which has Granger sewed up on a two-picture deal, isn't missing his devastating effect on the gentle sex. They sent him to Africa for "King Solomon's Mines" and now the front office big-wigs are rubbing their

When You Can't Whip 'Em, Join 'Em, Says Autry; Plans Television Films

HOLLYWOOD, April 24. (AP) Gene Autry today explained why he is getting into television:

"There are 8,000,000 kids in the country from the ages of 2 to 6. They're too young to go to movies, but they can watch television. I don't want them to grow up thinking there's only one cowboy—Hopalong Cassidy."

This is the second time in Autry's career that he has had to shoot it out with a rival. When he returned from the war, he discovered that singing Roy Rogers had been pushed into the No. 1 film cowboy spot. Gene worked hard to regain his market.

Now white-haired Bill Boyd has galloped into the hearts of America's kids astride a TV set. He is a good friend of Bill as well as Roy (the Autry-Rogers "feud" was a publicity stunt, says Gene), but Autry indicated there is plenty of room in video for another cowboy.

"Anybody who says television isn't here to stay is plumb blind," Gene told me at his new $140,000 house. "It is a tremendous new field and it can't be ignored. I always say, 'if you can't whip 'em, join 'em.'"

CASSIDY FILMS FOR THEATERS

He added: "I figure it this way—I was the first cowboy to put singing in westerns. I was the first singing cowboy to tour the country in rodeos. I was the first in comic books and the first to make a commercial tie-up for clothes and toys. So I might as well be the first singing cowboy to make new films for television."

Idled Workers Ask U. S. Aid

PITTSBURGH, April 24. (AP) Five hundred furloughed steelworkers held a rally at which the federal government was asked to help get their jobs back by underwriting freight car orders.

Philip Soghnien, member of the C. I. O. United Steelworkers' grievance committee, said at the mass meeting yesterday the men have been living on unemployment compensation and relief since the Pressed Steel Car Co. shut down its McKees Rocks plant last August.

A total of 2200 steelworkers were furloughed at that time. The company blamed the closing on a lack of orders for railroad freight cars.
