are complied from reports provided by DIAL LITES - TONIGHT

4:00 KFI Burt Lancaster will recreate "Rope of Sand" role on Screen Directors' Playhouse tonight, taking the part of a hunting guide who slips into a South African diamond concession and walks off with some of the stones.

2:00—KHJ—John Foster Dulles, special consultant to the State Department for the bipartisan foreign policy of the U. S., will be the interviewed guest on "Meet the Press" tonight. Mr. Dulles answers questions hurled by representatives of two news syndicates. 8:00 KECA—Lonely hearts clubs turn up some pretty bizarre characters, according to Brad Runyon, "The Fat Man." One of the odd ones bursts in on him and demands help in locating a girl the lonely hearts customer had never seen. A tough assignment, but trust Brad to untangle this baffling case. KFI—Dr. William Todhunter Hall is told that he has won a $20,000 literary prize and immediately sets out to build a home for retired college presidents and get a fur coat for his wife. But it turns out that the real winner is a student of "Ivy College" who has given all the credit to Dr. Hall.

•:00—KNX—A series of multiple murders, apparently unsolvable, leads Detective Danny Clover into a maze of a $100,000 narcotics case during the "Broadway Is My Beat" program.

TOMORROW :00—KECA—Direct from the Jamaica race track in Long Island, N. Y., comes the description of the running of the $50,000 Gallant Fox Handicap, a mile and three-sixteenth race for leading three-year-olds *30—KFI—Elaine Malbin, young soprano, will be the guest soloist on the "Spring Concert" today. Her selections include "Ah, Forse Lui" and "Sempre Libera" from Verdi's "La Traviata." The orchestra will play "Intermezzo" and "Gypsy Dance from Bizet's "Carmen" and Ponchielli's "Dance of the Hours."

TELE.TIPS 7:00-KECA-Have you ever wondered what to do with an arti-Well, you really haven't tasted them at their best until you try them the way "Chef Milani" recommends them on his program tonight.

8:00—KNBH—Each week a noted entertainer acts as guest emcee on the "Saturday Night Revue." Tonight's host is Rudy Vallee, who will introduce famous singers, dancers and comediennes for your amusement.

*8:15—KTSL—Three top sports events will oe shown tonight:

The battle of the Detroit Redwings and the New York Rangers to nail the Stanley Cup, Ponder's thrilling stretch drive to winthe Tanforan Handicap and the Golden Gloves championship.

TOMORROW 1:00—KLAC—Several new daytime shows will debut at this time.
A children's party, "Just for Kids," features contest games and prizes for the young fry, followed by Dick Haynes, who will entertain in his inimitable style for an hour and a quarter.
