TIP O' THE MORNING: As of now, Mills Brothers circus is not booked to visit Madison on July 3, despite such reports...

Almost 4,500 boys and girls from elementary and high schools all over Wisconsin will be Madison's guests Saturday.

The radio festival will attract about 3,400 boys and girls to the university stock pavilion...

They'll arrive in time for rehearsal at 11 a.m. Because the youngsters will fill the pavilion, the event will not be open to the public.

Appearing with them will be the Minnesingers, who assist Gordon in his broadcasts. Members of the group are Margie Carter and Mrs. Agnes Bailey...

Another 1,000 boys and girls will take part in the solo and ensemble festival to be held in a number of campus buildings.

At 7:30 p.m. Saturday, selected musicians will give a festival concert in Music Hall...

ON THE AIR: A demonstration of how music is taught in Madison elementary schools will be given in the "Madison Schools Concert" on WIBA at 3 p.m. Sunday...

They are James Bailey, Mary C. Crandall, Mary Beth Jones, Marilyn M. Kulik, Lon O. Nordeen, Arlayne C. Peters, Robert D. Baabe, Charles D. Schnetzler, and Robert A. Thistlethwaite.

"THANK YOU": Composer Albert Grube in far-away Vienna will say "thank you" to August Peter of Milwaukee through the famed strings of the Pro Arte choir.

"The Schnapps was strong and it made us bold so next we sang 'Sailing Against England,'" he said. "Then somebody asked whether we were afraid to sing the 'Horst Wessel Song' and nobody wanted to show he was a coward so we sang it."

It has turned into a showdown between a big company and a giant union. And both sides have suffered enormously.

There were strategic errors made on both sides. The company, for example, at one point charged the union with wanting to prolong the strike just to collect a huge strike fund.

That's a mistaken impression for the union expects to spend every nickel of its $7,000,000 strike assessment, as I've outlined above.

It's wrong, of course. It has turned into a showdown between a big company and a giant union. And both sides have suffered enormously.

Peter will be accompanied to Madison for the concert by R. C. Gruettner of Milwaukee. They are the last surviving members of a chamber music group which played together in Milwaukee for 50 years...

Known as the Joseph-Janka collection, it includes some of the best trios, quartets, and quintets of such composers as Beethoven, Schubert, Mozart, and Haydn...

Members of the chamber music society, in addition to Peter and Gruettner, were Paul Mueller, Frank Ulrich, and Janda, the founder.

Original selections and poems by John Gray will make up the program, which will be presented by West junior high school. Other schools taking part include Longfellow, Emerson, Lowell, Washington, Central junior high, East junior high, and the three senior high schools, Central, East, and West.

Besides giving pupils the opportunity to give their interpretation of poetry, a purpose of the festival is to show parents and other interested persons how poetry is taught today.

Phases of poetry to be presented include choral speaking, movement in poetry, music in poetry, drama in poetry, original poems, and interpretive reading.

CHILD KILLED BY CAR RACINE (AP)—Four-year-old Joyce Martinson died early Thursday in a hospital of head injuries suffered late Wednesday when she darted in front of a moving car in front of her home in suburban Racine. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Miel Martinson.

quartet at 2:15 p.m. today in Music Hall auditorium. Peter will be on hand for the first performance of the string quartet Grube wrote and dedicated to him in gratitude for the supplies of food and clothing Peter sent to keep Grube alive during the devastation of the post-war years. The public is invited to attend the performance.

Members of the University Symphony orchestra, directed by Prof. Richard C. Church, will accompany the singing.

Another 1,000 boys and girls will take part in the solo and ensemble festival to be held in a number of campus buildings. They were chosen to participate by judges at district music festivals held this spring throughout the state.

At 7:30 p.m. Saturday, selected musicians will give a festival concert in Music Hall, at which winners of summer music clinic scholarships will be announced.

All festival events will be open to the public. Tickets are being sold at a small fee. In addition to those announced earlier, the judges will include Mrs. Lucille Cooper of the university music school.

ON THE AIR: A demonstration of how music is taught in Madison elementary schools will be given in the "Madison Schools Concert" on WIBA at 3 p.m. Sunday. About 300 Washington school children will take part in the program under the direction of Katharine Jones.

Chrysler Strike Most Expensive

Cost Sets Record for Company, Union BY VICTOR RIESEL New born babies wait for no man. They arrive even if poppa's on a payless picket line, such as the marathon half-a-billion dollar Chrysler stoppage — during which Walter Reuther and his lieutenants doubled as strike leaders and wholesale midwives.

For, while some strikers worried about evictions, or losing automobiles, or just food these past four months, some 4,000 of the 89,000 men on the bricks in this, the second longest auto strike in history, had pregnant wives to worry about.

But the union helped the babies arrive mortgage free — just as it spent some $7,000,000 to run the strike.

It saw to it that in not a single home was the gas or electricity turned off for non-payment of utility bills; that no cars were lost because installment payments weren't available; that no home striker was evicted from his home for non-payment of rent or mortgage.

This makes the Chrysler strike the most expensive in history, as far as I can reckon — for both the company and the union.

Yet the strike barely attracted national public notice, although 25 of the company plants were struck.

Perhaps it's because there was some slugging only at the Marysville plant one day, when a supervisory employe was dumped badly by some irate pickets.

Only one fist fight — but still one of the key strikes in labor history — because of the pattern to be set and the willingness of the union almost to bankrupt itself to win.

Some say the strike cost for all concerned will hit a billion dollars. Right now it's half that. Everybody knew this would be

Germans No Longer Have 'Hungry Look'

FRANKFURT, Germany —(UP)—The thin-faced German who used to dive for cigarette butts has emerged into a well-fed German who has so many cigarettes now that he tosses them away half smoked.

To an American returning to this country after a three-year absence, that illustrates strikingly what has happened here.

You're also jolted to see the German housewife browbeating the butcher into giving her "more fat, lots of fat," with her Sunday roast.

It's different than the lean days of only 1,200 calories. The German of today is eating "high on the hog" and admitting it.

Shop windows have blossomed into glitter and chrome, laden with razor blades, bicycles, sausage and shoes.

The changes haven't been limited to material things. They say Nationalism is growing.

A German said his group sang the forbidden battle hymn of the Nazis — the Horst Wessel song — at a noisy party Saturday night.

He said they first sang "Deutschland Ueber Alles."

"The Schnapps was strong and it made us bold so next we sang 'Sailing Against England,'" he said. "Then somebody asked whether we were afraid to sing the 'Horst Wessel Song' and nobody wanted to show he was a coward so we sang it."

"We were a little scared but nothing happened."
