

Solons Training Legislative Guns on Slot Machines, May Put Dent in Business

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY

CHICAGO, May 13. (AP) Nobody knows how many broke and bitter men have tried to kick slot machines to pieces. About all they have to show for their efforts is scuffed shoes. But Uncle Sam soon may take a whack at the things with a new law. He may put quite a dent in the business. The Senate has approved, and the House is considering, a bill to stop the shipment of slot machines into states where they are illegal. A lot of people in Chicago, capital of the slot machine industry, are wondering what will happen if the legislation is adopted. The coin-fed contraption has had a long and lush life. Its origin is clouded by the mists of time. But old heads in the trade have the great-granddaddy of them all was invented in about 1855 by Charles Foy in California. Production began in Chicago at about the turn of the century. Chicago became the manufacturing center because it had a pool of skilled mechanics. Now there are at least eight firms that make the devices here.

The coin-fed contraption has had a long and lush life. Its origin is clouded by the mists of time. But old heads in the trade have the great-granddaddy of them all was invented in about 1855 by Charles Foy in California. Production began in Chicago at about the turn of the century. Chicago became the manufacturing center because it had a pool of skilled mechanics. Now there are at least eight firms that make the devices here.

MANY TYPES
The slot machine is but one of many types of coin-operated machines. The industry as a whole is widespread and thriving. It is split into three fields— vending and service machines (such as juke boxes and pin-ball games); amusement machines (such as juke boxes and pin-ball games); and slot machines.

The slot machine came out about the same time as the automobile. Both have taken millions for a ride. But the slot, unlike the motor car, hasn't been changed a great deal through the years. The machines usually have three vertical wheels. On them are pictures of such things as cherries, oranges, plums, bells and bars. You put in a coin and pull a lever. The wheels spin. When they stop, you can see three pictures in small glass windows. When certain combinations of pictures show up, you win. When they don't, you don't. And, usually, you don't. The gadgets will take nickels, dimes, quarters, half dollars and silver dollars. They are utterly indiscriminate. They will take loose money, rent money, grocery money. And they will take it from anybody tall enough to reach the slot. The apparatus often is called "the one armed bandit." You can find the reason for that in the literature on the subject in reference libraries. The findings in the reports vary, but here are some of them:

PAY NOTHING
Manufacturers claim the machines, as built in their plants, are geared to pay 75 cents on the dollar. But they can be fixed to pay out nothing or 10, 20, 40 or 60 per cent of the cash poured into them. William B. Herlands, who looked into the matter for city officials in New York in 1941, figured the pay-outs at around 40 to 50 per cent of the gross receipts. Most players, of course, shoot for the big payoff—the jack pot. The odds of hitting it have been calculated all the way from 1000 to one to 4000 to one. Back in the 30s, when Fiorello LaGuardia was mayor of New York, the police rounded up some of the contrivances. Citizens were invited to take a helping of slugs and give them a whirl. One machine coughed up the jack pot at the end of 2674 plays and another after 2845 plays. Whatever the odds, there seem to be thousands of folks eager to buck them. Some like to play "em hot." They lean to the theory that the pay-outs run in streaks. Some like to play "em cold." They have a hunch that a machine that hasn't given out anything but metallic clicks for a spell is about due, but the only consistent money makers are the owners.

RALLY ENTERTAINERS—The youthful King Sisters, above, will be heard in songs and marimba music tonight in Brethren Auditorium, Cherry Ave. and Fifth St., providing the musical setting for the Youth for Christ rally, according to Rev. Jim Colbert, director. Another feature will be the appearance of Rev. Ralph Morris, Bell Gardens, sand artist, who learned the secret of the sand paintings of the Hopi while living in Arizona. Morris developed his own technique and, with his wife, worked out ideas for sand paintings applicable to religious service. He developed such pictures as "Blue Galilee," "Let the Lower Lights Be Burning" and "The Old Rugged Cross." Another artist on the program will be Dawson Trotman of the Navigators.

Pulpit Exchange Stassen to Talk When Northern Baptists Meet

Rev. Claude Bunzell, pastor of First Bible Presbyterian Church, will exchange the pulpit tomorrow with Rev. John E. Janbaz of Pasadena Bible Presbyterian Church. Harold E. Stassen, president of the University of Pennsylvania, will speak on Tuesday evening, May 23, to Northern Baptists at their annual convention in Boston, Mass., it was announced by Dr. Eugene Austin, chairman of the program committee. The Northern Baptist Convention representing 33 state areas and 7000 churches, will be in session from May 22 to 26. Dr. Winfield Edson of Long Beach First Baptist Church, a prominent member of the convention, will attend. While governor of Minnesota in 1941, Stassen was elected to the vice presidency of the Northern Baptist Convention.

Wintersburg Church Will Fete Mothers

Observance of Mother's Day tomorrow in Wintersburg Community Methodist Church has been arranged by mothers of the congregation, according to Rev. Charles H. Bacon, pastor. At the 10:30 a. m. service, Mrs. William Bergvelt will conduct the worship, with Mrs. Dale Gustafson reading the lesson from Proverbs and Mrs. E. Ray Moore leading in prayer. Mrs. Bacon, wife of the pastor, will speak on "The Perfect Mother," and Mrs. Morris Hackett will sing an appropriate Mother's Day solo.

Mother's Day Rite at Healing Center

Memorial Healing Center, "Chapel in the Sky," will have a Mother's Day program at tomorrow's 2:30 p. m. in the lower room of Villa Riviera. Dr. C. Richard Minugh will give the address on "Why the Mother Is Our Mother." The True Meaning of the Mother Principle, a metaphysical interpretation. A flower service in memory of mothers will be featured in the program, with music by Mrs. Grace Bunn. A healing service will be given with prayers for the sick and afflicted. The public is invited.

Christian Science Topic Announced

"Mortals and Immortals" will be the Sunday Bible lesson subject in all branches of The Mother's Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. The golden text, chosen from Romans, reads: "They that are after the flesh, but they that are after the Spirit, the things of the Spirit." On this subject Mary Baker Eddy says in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures": "Mortals are not like immortals, created in God's own image; but infinite Spirit being all, mortal consciousness will at last yield to the scientific fact and disappear, and the real sense of being, perfect and forever intact, will appear."

Traditional May Procession at 2:30

A traditional May procession in honor of the Blessed Virgin will be held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at Our Lady of Refuge Catholic Church, Los Coyotes Blvd. and Stearns St. The children will crown a statue of the Blessed Virgin, and Our Lady of Refuge. Miraculous Medals will be given to all present. All parents and friends are invited. Refreshments will be served to the children after the benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

Evangelist Beam Back From El Paso

Evangelist Ernest Beam, minister of Central Church of Christ, Atlantic Ave. and Fifth St., returned this week from El Paso, Texas, where he conducted a series of revival meetings. He will occupy his pulpit Sunday for both morning and evening services. At 10:45 he will speak on "God and Mothers" and at 7:35 on "God's Forgiving Love." At the 6:30 hour four young men of the congregation will give short talks in the church auditorium.

Rev. Irving Rhoades to Be Guest Pastor

Rev. Irving Rhoades, minister of Christian education at Bay Shore Community Congregational Church, will be the guest pastor to fill the pulpit at Long Beach Community Presbyterian Church tomorrow morning. Rev. James W. Baird, son of Dr. Jesse Hays Baird, president of San Francisco Theological Seminary, and now chairman of the church extension board of the Los Angeles Presbytery, will be the guest pastor for May 21.

Lakewood Church to Note Lutheran World Action Day

Parishioners of Lakewood United Lutheran Church will observe Lutheran World Action Sunday, May 21, according to the pastor, Rev. Louis Frenckel. It will mark a decade of relief activity during which Lutherans of the United States have contributed $36,000,000 for spiritual and material relief and reconstruction in 52 countries on all six continents. Pastor Mertz will speak on "Love's Working Arm." The Lakewood church is one of the 10,700 affiliated with the eight Lutheran bodies in the National Lutheran Council. The N. L. C. comprises 4,000,000 persons belonging to the United Lutheran Church in America, the Evangelical Lutheran Church, the American Lutheran Church, the Augustana Lutheran Church, the Lutheran Free Church, the Finnish Swomi Synod, the United Evangelical Lutheran Church, and the Danish Evangelical Lutheran Church. The goal for 1950 is $3,200,000, of which the Lakewood church is asked to contribute $101. Since Lutheran World Action was begun in 1940, the Lakewood congregation has given $250 and gathered more than 500 pounds of used clothing, shoes and bedding which was shipped to Lutheran World Relief. A congregational meeting will be held tomorrow immediately after the morning service, when the proposed transfer of title to the parsonage will be discussed. Announcement also was made Thursday that an organ will be presented to the church by Trinity United Lutheran Church of Long Beach, the "sponsoring parish" of Lakewood Church. The new church building is ready for plastering.

Missionary to Talk

Walter Wakefield, returned missionary from Africa, will be the guest speaker tomorrow evening in Berea Baptist Church, 6031 Linden Ave. He will show pictures of his mission station and phases of the mission work. The lecture will be illustrated and will feature some of her experiences in compiling the volume in the trilogy, "Christ and the Fine Arts," "The World's Great Marbles" and the third now in process of completion, "Highly Power." The youth choir "Lights of the Old Testament" will assist.

Joint Picnic Today for Artesia Groups

The Christian Youth Fellowship of Artesia Christian Church will join Youth Fellowship of Artesia Methodist Church in a picnic today in Norwalk Park, according to leaders of both groups, and the pastors, Rev. Charles H. Swift Jr. and Rev. John Atwood. Mother's Day in Artesia Christian Church will be featured by Rev. Swift's sermon at 11 a. m. on "Faith of Our Mothers," and in the evening by the church wedding of Anna May Mowry to Carl Ray Gathery, to which the entire congregation has been invited.

Church to Hold Quarterly Parley

East Long Beach Methodist Church will hold its fourth quarterly conference Sunday following the evening service. Dr. James L. Lyons of Alhambra, district superintendent of the Pasadena-Long Beach district, will preside for the presentation of annual reports by the church organizations. Dr. Lyons also will give the sermon at 7:30 p. m. In the morning the pastor, Rev. Quentin P. Royer, will preach on "The Mothers of Men."

Pomona Pastor Son of L. B. Minister

Rev. William David Pratt, now minister of Pilgrim Congregational Church, Pomona, is the son of Dr. Robert Murray Pratt of the Unitarian Church here. He had served as pastor of First Congregational Church, Redlands, until recently. Rev. Pratt has been succeeded by Rev. Gerald Churchhill, pastor since 1943 at Villa Park, Ill.

Speaker's Sermon Topics Announced

Rev. Lee H. Ensley, known by some as the "Texas Giant," is conducting meetings in the Free Methodist Church, 16th St. and Broadway Ave., of which Rev. Wendell L. Burnett is pastor. Sunday at 11 a. m. Rev. Ensley will speak on "O. That From Heaven It Now Might Fall" and at 7:30 p. m. on "The Greatest Sin in Long Beach." He will preach every evening except Saturday next week.

IN BROADCAST—Pictured in a rehearsal and script conference prior to tonight's broadcast are Rev. Ralph Grove, treasurer of Long Beach Ministerial Union; George McLean, secretary, and Rev. Quentin P. Royer, pastor of East Long Beach Methodist Church, who will deliver the meditation on the "Call of the Church" at 6:15 o'clock on Station KFOX. A short dramatic sketch honoring Long Beach Board of Education as the "Good Samaritan of the Week" for promoting facilities for handicapped children will be presented. Music will be by Arne Zahl and the "Call of the Church" choir.

L. B. Author Speaks Tomorrow at Church

Miss Cynthia Pearl Maus, internationally known Long Beach lecturer, author and world traveler, will speak Sunday evening in Calvary Presbyterian Church on a resume of her famous book, "The World's Great Madonnas." The lecture will be illustrated and will feature some of her experiences in compiling the volume in the trilogy, "Christ and the Fine Arts," "The World's Great Marbles" and the third now in process of completion, "Highly Power." The youth choir "Lights of the Old Testament" will assist.

Southern Baptist Group Organizes 'White Temple'

At the call of Rev. Milton Cunningham, general missionary for the Southern Baptist Church in the Los Angeles area, 53 messengers or representatives from 24 Southern Baptist Churches met last Sunday afternoon in Red Men's Hall, 1630 E. Anaheim St., to organize a new Southern Baptist Church. Rev. Cunningham was chosen as moderator of the council. Rev. Willis Lowe of the First Southern Baptist Church, Norwalk, represented the council concerning the statements of personal experience. Rev. Paul Campbell of Compton, First Southern Baptist Church, presented the articles of faith. Rev. Louis Hendricks, First Southern Baptist Church, Pasadena, read the covenant, and Rev. Charles Smith of West Los Angeles Southern Baptist Church, gave the charge and the prayer of consecration. A charter list of 118 persons was given for membership. The new organization selected White Temple Baptist Church for its name. Miss Evelyn Halderman was elected clerk and Mrs. Lura Ryder, treasurer. Rev. Virgil H. Fisher was called to be the pastor, and responded by stating he would give his answer on June 1. He next was invited to serve as guest minister for the rest of May, and agreed to this request. At the evening service 16 new members were received into the new congregation. Services in Red Men's Hall, for May 14 will include, Sunday School at 9:30; 11, morning service and preaching. A baptismal service will be held at 3 p. m. in the morning. A Mother's Day service will be held at 7:30 p. m. and preaching at 8 p. m., and preaching at 10 p. m.

American Association of Nurses Declines to Enter Insurance Fight

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13. (AP) Declining to enter a political fight, the American Nurses' Association has refused to adopt a resolution opposing compulsory health insurance asked by the American Medical Association. The organization's house of delegates tabled the resolution yesterday in the closing hours of the annual nursing convention at which it was meeting with other nursing groups. The resolution was suggested by George Lull, A. M. A. secretary, but the nurses declined to act on it, saying that they owed a higher responsibility to the American public.

Trapper Will Talk in Newport Church

Warren Hume, taxidermist and trapper, will speak Sunday evening in Newport First Baptist Church, 515 W. Balboa Blvd., it was announced by the pastor, Rev. George H. Wiedman. His message will be "Life With Christ," and will be illustrated with wild animal hides trapped in the surrounding hills. "Trapping is my hobby, Hume says, "walking is my joy. But much greater joy is mine when I am able to tell others how God works in nature."

Rev. Gabrielson to Talk on the Home

Tomorrow morning at Bay Shore Community Congregational Church, the pastor, Rev. Milton G. Gabrielson, will give a special Mother's Day message at both services. It will be on "The Home God Meant for Us to Create." "Everything all right at home?" will be more than a casual greeting between friends, the pastor comments, "and if answered from all over the United States would be disquieting. If everything is not all right, why not, and what can be done about it?" are some of the points he announces to be discussed.

Women of Garfield to Conduct Service

The Garfield Baptist women will have charge of the Sunday evening service at Garfield Baptist Church, Caspian Ave. and Hill St. Mrs. C. Murray Saba, formerly administrative officer of Baptist Women's Work for the New England states, will be guest speaker. Mrs. Clifford Thorne will be the soloist.
