DIAL LITES - TONIGHT

6:06—KFI—Rosalind Russell will play a psychiatrist who would do well to consult a psychiatrist herself in "She Wouldn't Say Yes," the "Screen Directors' Playhouse" bill for tonight. Several seasons ago Miss Russell played this part of a woman who is ignorant of the physician-heal-thyself injunction. 7:50—KHJ—Following the victory of Chief Sitting Bull over Gen. Custer, an explosive situation exists sparked by the fact that white men are supplying Indians with rifles. In this tense spot the "Cisco Kid" becomes involved in the "Massacre at Pinto Basin."

Pinto Basin."

1:38—KNX—The story of the rocket ship Venture and the eighteen men who made the first flight to Mars from Earth is told in the "Escape" story "Mars in Heaven." As these adventurers find many of their former friends living on this farthung planet, they begin to think they have reached heaven.

1:30—KECA—A case involving the activities of two hardened female criminals will be dramatized on "This Is Your FBI." They are engaged in a rampage of armed robbery and assault when they are picked up just in time to save the lives of three innocent victims. mocent victims.

11:08 KHJ—Norman Thomas, Socialist party leader, will speak from Detroit, Mich., where their party convention is being held.

7:30—KECA—The Cass County Boys have been added to the cast of "Way Out West." Others to take part in this rootin' tootin' show are Dusty Walker, Maureen O'Conner and Tom Holland,

8:30 KTSL "Feature Theater," a new star-studded feature motion picture series, will be a regular Friday night event.

Opener in the group is "Accused" with Douglas Fairbanks Jr.
and Dolores del Rio.

1:30—KNBH—Caroline Leonetti invites three interesting guests for "Designed for Women." Actor Hugh O'Brien will discuss for "Designed for Women." Actor Hugh O'Brien will discuss his latest picture, "Rocket Ship to the Moon." Sally Dickerson from the California magazine will talk about family fashions, and Anita Bennett will make suggestions for picnics.

1:30—KTLA—That delightful picture "Little Lord Fauntleroy" will be shown tonight, starring Freddie Bartholomew, Mickey will be shown tonight, starring Freddie Bartholomew, Mickey Rooney and C. Aubrey Smith.

19:15—KTTV—The five finalists in the "Miss L. A." contest will be judged by a panel of experts headed by the famous artist, Varga. This is the first time this honor has been bestowed through the medium of television, for this girl will go on to the state contest in Santa Cruz and maybe to Atlantic City.

On the Air Waves Dennis Day Offered 'Joe Miller' Role

Dennis Day may make quite a departure from his characterization of NBC's "A Day in the Life of Dennis Day," if he accepts a current offer to star in the proposed film, "Thank You, Joe Miller," based on the life of the author of the famous "Joe Miller's Joke Book." Oddly enough, Miller, who lived in the latter part of the 18th century, was not a comedian. He was a Shakespearean actor, who made a hobby of collecting jokes made a hondy of collecting jokes of his time.

The joke book was not published, according to Day, who has done extensive research on the character, until Miller died in 1738, when his friends gathered his jokes together in a single volume and sold them to raise a charitable fund for the actor's widow.

Tom Moore Teaches Fans How to Fish

Genial Tom Moore, the ebul-lient master of ceremonies who conducts the week-day "Ladies Fair' fun-fests over Mutual-Don Lee, is also an ardent fisherman. And every once in a while he just can't help combining the two and showing the ladies in the audience how it's done—piscato-rial equipment and all!
