Bar Association Silent on Lobbying Question

A committee of the Wisconsin Bar assn., said Friday it would not take a stand on the propriety of attorneys buying meals and drinks for legislators.

The association's committee on professional ethics said that it would not take a stand because Dist. Atty. Robert W. Arthur is prosecuting attorneys for lobby law violations.

The committee decided when it was organized, Walter W. Hammond, of Kenosha, chairman, told Arthur, not to give opinions in cases in which the conduct of attorneys is subject to court litigation.

Arthur had asked the committee for an advisory opinion.

Two Area Students Get Yearbook Positions

WHITEWATER—Joyce Rhode, Juneau, and Kenneth Elwood, Palmyra, have been appointed to positions on the 1951 staff of Whitewater State Teachers college yearbook.

Miss Rhode will be business manager. Elwood will work as copy editor.

Reinstated Mine Chief Says Life Threatened

CANTON, Ill.—(AP)—A new round in the Lloyd H. Sidenor, John L. Lewis fight gained momentum Friday when the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) began an investigation of reported threats against the miner's life.

A spokesman for the United Mine Workers (UMW) said he had no knowledge of such threats.

Sidenor, ousted president of UMW Local 7455 at Canton, charged a woman had telephoned several times threatening his body would be "found in a ditch."

He said this call violated terms of a settlement he signed with the union Thursday and asked the NLRB to disregard that agreement.

However, Bernard Beasley, UMW subdistrict chairman and board member, issued a statement on behalf of himself and the union local saying, "I certainly know of no phone calls made to Sidenor's home or that of his mother."

Rosholt Man to Run for Congressional Post

TAPEL, Formosa—(U.P.)—Malcolm Rosholt of Rosholt, Wis., said Friday he would run for congress as representative of Wisconsin.

The 42-year-old war veteran said his platform would be "fight Communism." He said he felt it appropriate to announce his candidacy from this island. If elected, he said, he would support the Chinese Nationalists and all free people everywhere.

Rosholt's home town 125 miles north of Madison was founded by his forefathers. He said he would fly back to the United States in a few days, and file his papers as a candidate.

Cottage Grove Woman Graduates at Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE—Ruth Axt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Axt, Cottage Grove, will be among the June graduates of Milwaukee State Teachers college.

A bachelor of science degree will be awarded Miss Axt at commencement exercises June 16.

TIP O' THE MORNING: NBC will have exclusive broadcast rights to the running of the Belmont Stakes at Belmont Park, N. Y., at 3:30 p. m. Saturday, June 10. It will be on WIBA.

Despite earlier reports, "Fibber McGee and Molly" will be back on the air next fall. This department gave you the rumor that they'd be retiring—which, at the time, was a credible report from a "usually reliable source." It probably started because of uncertainty over the comedy team's sponsorship. A hint that the pair won't have the same backer next season was found in the last program's signoff; the McGees said they'd be with us next fall, but didn't mention the sponsor, which would be a departure from custom if the bankrolling were definite.

Phil Baker, one of network radio's earliest spotlight celebrities, is auditioning an audience participation show.

First-rank conductors and soloists have been signed for the NBC Summer Symphony series starting June 11 on NBC-WIBA. Among them are Fritz Reiner, Alfred Wallenstein, Eugene Ormandy, Milton Katims, Arthur Fiedler, Victor de Sabata, Pierre Monteux, Erich Leinsdorf, Wilfred Pelelier, Sigmund Romberg, Vladimir Golschmann, Rafael Kubelik, Harold Levey, Lauritz Melchior, Dorothy Maynor, Zino Francescatti, Rose Bampton, Jarmila Novotna, Helen Traubel, Robert Merrill, Bidu Savao, William Kapell, and Eugene Conley.

A new type family program, "The Truitts," will replace "One Man's Family" on the NBC Sunday schedule beginning June 11. The latter becomes a Monday-through-Friday feature Monday.

"Dragnet" will move to a new time—9 p. m. Thursdays—next week.

NEWSREELS: Contributions of American newsreels to public welfare projects are pointed up in a report showing that the newsreels, during the 12-month period ending Apr. 30, devoted 118 sequences to humanitarian and charitable causes.

The analysis was prepared by Edmund Reek, chairman of the Motion Picture Assn. of America.

As the press of the screen, the newsreel not only focused the attention of millions of moviegoers on such national and civic projects as the Boy Scouts, Brotherhood Week, CARE, U. S. savings bonds, the Gratitude train, and International Variety Clubs but stimulated support of campaigns to combat and alleviate the scourge of disease, disaster, and poverty.

In addition to the 118 sequences, the newsreels ran four special trailers of the Red Cross, the American Heart Assn., the National Tuberculosis Assn., and the March of Dimes. Another supplement, released in observance of United Nations Day, highlighted the work of the United Nations.

MUSICAL STARDUST: Strange, isn't it, that with the current popularity of "Bewitched" it is talking so long for David Ross's fine old waxing of this tune to get attention? It was originally recorded for Victor, but MGM is put-

New Refugee Wave Streams into West Zone

BERLIN—(AP)—Hundreds of refugees from the Soviet East zone poured in on West Berlin's welfare agency Friday with stories of escaping during the confusion of the Whitson tide Communist youth march of 500,000.

An American official said West Berlin and Western Germany are "just about bursting at the seams with refugees" but predicted the Germans would try to accommodate most of them.

German officials estimated several thousand persons were in the new refugee wave. They were unable to give exact figures.

Among those seeking asylum were 270 young German youth deserters from the Red rally honoring Josef Stalin and 38 members of the Soviet sector "People's Police" force.

The central welfare board classified the police deserters as "political refugees" with the right to live and work in West Berlin or to be absorbed in Western Germany.

The 270 adventurous youngsters refused under prodding to return to the Soviet zone and a special commission was set up to sort out those who may qualify to stay.

Jam Relief Offices
A thousand men and women from the East descended on relief offices when they reopened Thursday after the long holiday shutdown. Hundreds more came Friday.

All said they took advantage of police preoccupation with the rally to slip away and hide along the sector borders or with friends and relatives until they could emerge with petitions for sanctuary.

Among the 38 police deserters were some men identified as actually members of the heavily armed East German military establishment.

A spokesman for the United Mine Workers (UMW) said he had no knowledge of such threats.

Sidenor, ousted president of UMW Local 7455 at Canton, charged a woman had telephoned several times threatening his body would be "found in a ditch."

He said this call violated terms of a settlement he signed with the union Thursday and asked the NLRB to disregard that agreement.
