BEECHAM: Mail orders for next season's appearance of the Royal Philharmonic orchestra, with Sir Thomas Beecham conducting, have been pouring in to the Wisconsin Union boxoffice since Monday and the stock pavilion is expected to be filled to capacity Nov. 27 when the English orchestra makes its first Madison appearance The program is sponsored as a special attraction by the Wisconsin Union Music committee. Receipt of mail orders for the event was delayed for a week Mail orders may now be sent in, however, according to Janice Somers, chairman of the music committee. University students may obtain order blanks at the poxoffice window. Some student lickets for the concert will be retained in the boxoffice racks until fall to accommodate incoming freshmen and transfer students.

NEW HONOR: Mrs. Royder James Keith of Chicago, president of the National Federation of Music Clubs, is now entitled to call herself "Dr. Keith."

On May 28, at commencement exercises at MacMurray college, Jacksonville, Ill., the Fonorary degree of doctor of music was conferred upon her in recognition of her distinguished service in th musical field. A former concert and oratorio singer of note under
