Fighth Army headquarters in Korea today said that six members of the 19th Infantry Regiment and 13 of the Korean advisory group have been decorated for heroism and meritorious service. The six were awarded Distinguished Service Crosses for extraordinary heroism. The 13 were awarded Bronze Star Medals for meritorious service.

The Distinguished Service Crosses was awarded posthumously to Maj. John M. Cook, whose widow lives in Columbus, Ga. He was cited for heroic action while fighting the enemy at close quarters July 16 near Taepyong, 15 air miles northwest of Taejon. He was instrumental in knocking out several Red automatic weapons with hand grenades. Cook killed one North Korean with his pistol and bayonetted another. He was killed in action.

Capt. Herman G. Felhoelter, a chapiain whose mother lives in Louisville, Ky., received the D. S. C. for voluntarily remaining behind to care for wounded when Americans withdrew from Kum River positions north of Taejon. The Winchester, Va., for picking up Minchester, Va., for picking up
