The following programs are sampled from reports provided by the broadcasters. No responsibility assumed for last-minute changes which sometimes are made.

DIAL LITES—TODAY

11:45—KHJ—Undersecretary of the Treasury Edward Foley Jr. will present the over-all program of law enforcement operations used in his department on today's "Washington Report."
1:00—KHJ—Roy Rogers returns to his regular time spot today. He plans to announce soon the winners in his National Safety Campaign. So listen in kids to see if you might be one of the lucky ones.
4:00—KNX—Kenny Gardner is featured on today's "Guy Lombardo Time." He sings "Forever and Ever" and "Can Anyone Explain." Co-vocalist does "Count Every Star" and "Barcarolle" is played by the twin pianists, Fred Kretzner and Buddy Brennan.
7:00—KECA—World championship golf matches at Tam O'Shanter, with Harry Wismer giving a play by play description of the action.
10:30—KNX—A special broadcast in observation of the fifth anniversary of the dropping of the atomic bomb, features the news of the A-bomb target cities Hiroshima and Nagasaki. Also appearing on the program are Gov. Earl Warren and Mayor Fletcher Bowron.
10:30—KFI—With controls the warmest topic in Congress today, the "American Forum of the Air" has scheduled "Controls and Taxes" as the discussion topic for tonight. Sen. Paul Douglas and Sen. Homer Capehart will take opposing views on this issue.

TELEVISION

6:00—KNBH—Merle Oberon, Melvyn Douglas and Burgess Meredith are the stars of the feature film "That Uncertain Feeling."
7:45—KECA—The most talked about subject of the age, atomic energy . . . is the subject of "Kierman's Kaleidoscope." He will attempt to make the principle and its application understandable to everyone.
8:30—KTTV—"We Take Your Word" or at least that is what John Daly and Abe Burrows with their guests of the evening will do and from there they will do wonders with "Your Word."
9:15—KTLA—George Meekers and Anne Wynne are two of the personalities who make up the teams to play charades with Dick Lane tonight.

Clever Squeeze Strategy Cinches Bidder's Contract

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"You recently published a hand in your column that looks almost exactly like a hand we played out here a couple of months ago," writes a Portland, Ore., correspondent.

"West opened the seven of spades, and declarer played dummy's queen. (This differs from the hand you published, in which declarer was able to let West hold the first trick.)

"After winning the first trick with the ace of spades, East returned his singleton trump. Declarer put up the king, hoping that East held the ace as part of the strength for his bid. No guess would have helped South, since West had both the ace and the queen. West took his two top trumps and got out with a third trump.

"Now South had no trumps in dummy to use for his losing clubs. He could discard one of them on dummy's king of spades but had to lose the other one.

"Somebody said that South could have made his contract by means of a squeeze but we can't quite see how East can be squeezed if West saves clubs. 'Can this hand be made? As a matter of fact, it probably spades. Since East can therefore hold only two clubs, declarer can cash the ace and king of clubs and win the last trick with the six of clubs.

should be made by a careful declarer even if he cannot see all the cards.

South must play the trumps in such a way as to win the third round of trumps with dummy's eight. He should then cash the king of spades, discarding a low club from his hand. He ruffs the deuce of spades to enter his own hand. On this trick, West can afford to discard a low diamond.

South now leads his next-to-last trump. At this point West has four diamonds and three clubs. If West discards a diamond, declarer will discard dummy's remaining spade. He will then cash the top diamonds and ruff a diamond, setting up dummy's last card in that suit. The ace of clubs will enable him to cash the last diamond.

Since West cannot afford to discard a second diamond, he must discard a club. This leaves East with the only stopper in clubs. South should realize what the situation is and should discard a low diamond from dummy.

South then leads his last trump, discarding dummy's last diamond. He then cashes dummy's top diamonds, squeezing East. East can hold only three cards, of which one must be a spade to top dummy's six of
