Blackwood on Bridge

(By Easley R. Blackwood)

In recent columns I have pointed out the main requisites for a sound opening bid of two in a suit.

Briefly I have recommended that you should have:

ONE. A minimum of four honor tricks.

TWO. Ability to win within one trick of game without help from partner.

THREE. Solidity in your principal suit or suits.

North dealer.

Both sides vulnerable.

North (Mr. Muzzy) ♠ 8 5
♥ A K 10
♦ A Q
♣ A K 6 5 4

West (Mr. Meek) East (Mr. Masters)
♠ A J 9 6 2 ♠ K 7 4
♥ 9 5 2 ♠ Q 8 6
♦ K 9 4 ♠ 10 7 5
♣ 9 8 ♠ Q J 7 2

South (Mr. Champion)
♠ Q 10 3
♥ J 7 4 3
♦ J 8 3 2
♣ 10 3

The bidding:
North East South West
2 ♠ Pass 3 NT Pass
3 ♠ Pass 3 NT All Pass

These are not "rules." They are not arbitrary yardsticks decided upon at random in an effort to standardize opening two bids. They are merely conclusions based upon common sense and experience in actual play.

In today's deal Mr. Muzzy violated recommendation No. 3.

Note that his principal suit, clubs, was composed of A K 6 5 4. That suit would have won just two tricks if his left hand opponent had held Q J 10 9 8 in clubs.

Take the diamond suit, too. If partner had nothing, there were two diamond losers.

Now substitute the J 10 9 of clubs for Mr. Muzzy's three small ones and substitute the jack of diamonds for the six spot.

By adding three "unimportant" honors, namely two jacks and a 10, we have increased the trick taking ability of the hand by three full tricks.

Of course, Mr. Muzzy violated recommendation No. 2, also.

He had nowhere near the strength to take within one trick of game. He was swayed, undoubtedly, by the fact that he held 5 1/2 honor tricks.

But honor tricks alone are not by means the only consideration in deciding whether to open with a two-bid.

The defenders in this hand quickly rattled off five tricks in spades.

And since the clubs failed to break and Mr. Champion had no entry to his hand to try the diamond finesse, he found himself down four.

"Will you tell me," he asked in a strangled voice, "why you opened that hand with a two bid?"

"Well, I was afraid you'd pass," Mr. Muzzy replied.

Mr. Champion hit himself in the forehead.

"That," he remarked, "is the explanation of the year. Your hand took five tricks. Now if I had enough stuff to take the other four, don't you think I'd keep your one bid open?"

Unanswerable. Except by Mr. Muzzy.

"I still say I had 5 1/2 honor tricks," he said.

Casual Motorist Foils Gas Station Holdup
INDIANAPOLIS—(UP)—Ralph Jewell, filling station manager, is all in favor of attempted holdups. A customer ordered five gallons one night and paid with a $10 bill. After making change, Jewell looked up to see the muzzle of a pistol. Before Jewell could comply with the order to hand over all his money, another car drove into the station. The bandit sped away, leaving Jewell $9.70 to the good, plus the profit on the sale. The second driver didn't want gas or oil; just highway directions.

GE Strike Talks
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Federal mediation of the General Electric strike dispute was recessed Friday night until Tuesday in a flurry of dispute and with no visible progress toward settlement.

James B. Carey, chairman of the CIO International Electrical Workers union (IUE), told reporters he had "accepted" the company's offer as published in full-page advertisements in several cities this week.

Runyan Cancer Fund to Get Play Proceeds
The Danon Runyan Cancer Fund will receive all proceeds from the 8:20 p. m. Sunday performance of the Belfry Players at Williams Bay, it was announced Friday.

Moss Hart's successful comedy of show people, "Light Up The Sky," will be presented.

Donations from persons unable to attend will be added to the fund.

Republican Tones Down Democrat

RICHLAND CENTER—(AP)—The Republican mayor of Richland Center objected Thursday night to the noise being made by a Democratic sound truck.

Bud Davis of Spring Green, driver of the truck which was boosting the candidacy of Patrick Lucey for congress, said he was stopped by a policeman.

"The mayor says you're making 100 much noise," Davis quoted the officer as saying.

"Do I have to stop playing records?" Davis asked.

"All right," the mayor says it will be all right if you tone it down," he said the officer replied.

The mayor of Richland Center is Vernon Thomson, who also is seeking the Republican nomination as attorney general.

Theater Guild to Hold First Meeting Tuesday

The Madison Theater Guild will hold its first general meeting of the season at 7:45 p. m. Tuesday in the Madison Community Center library.

The Youth Summer Theater group will present a one-act play, "Illusions." Proposed constitutional amendments will be discussed.

All persons living or working in the Madison area who are interested in community theater activities are asked to attend.
