property owners in the Findlay park sanitary district, it was an nounced friday by Harold Lenerz, chairman of the town of Madison board.

The refund represents the money remaining from the assessments which were made against property owners at the time the sewer lanes were laid in 1933 and the water mains in 1938. The entire area in which the property owners getting the refund live was annexed to the city of Madison in 1948.

The area includes Quarrytown and Schmidt replats, and Findlay Badger, and University parks.

The town of Madison board, including Lenerz, Atty. Perry Armstrong, and Leo Kosak, act as the Findlay park sanitary district commissioners in an ex-officio capacity.

The refunds will average about $10 per property owner and will range from $4.22 to $150, Lenerz, said, depending upon the amount of the original assessment at the time was $60 for water and $250 for sewer.

The average assessment at the time was $60 for water and $250 for sewer.
