DIAL LITES — TONIGHT

6:30—KNX—That "Woman of Distinction" Rosalind Russell, recreates her screen role for "Radio Theatre" tonight. This is the hit comedy film in which Cary Grant rescues the heroine from her fiery lover.

7:00—KHJ—South Sea, captured capital of the Korean Republic, is linked with Tokyo and New York for it's "War Front-Home Front" broadcast tonight. Gordon Walker of the Christian Science Monitor will be at the Tokyo microphone to join war correspondents from the news centers in Korea, to discuss the war's impact.

8:30—KFI—Nadine Conner, Met star, joins Gordon MacRae as co-star in the "Railroad Hour" presentation of "Revenge With Music."

9:30—KECA—Salah El-Din Bey, Egyptian Foreign Minister, will be interviewed on the "Info of the Night" broadcast. He will be quizzed by members of the U. N. Correspondents Association on questions relating to Egypt and her place in the world of today.

TOMORROW, OCTOBER 24

8:30—A. M.—All networks will carry the address of President Harry S. Truman which highlights the ceremonies marking the international observance of United Nations Day. This is a special five-minute program in which Gen. Lucius Clay, National Chairman of the Crusade for Freedom, will speak at the dedication of the World Freedom Bell in Berlin.

TELEVISION

8:00—KTLA—This is double thriller night on this channel, opening with "Blonde for a Day" with Hugh Beaumont, followed by "I Accuse My Parents," starring Robert Lowell at 9:15.

8:30—KLAC—Look and listen to the man who has proven he knows his way about . . . Governor Earl Warren of California.

8:55—KTTV—Blind xylophonist Pierce Knox, who won top place on the audience applause meter for the third week, will defend his championship on the "Horace Heidt Show." His competition on the television version of this program include a dancer from California, a singer from South Dakota, and a trumpet player from the state of Washington.

11:00—KNBH—For one hour each weekday night "Broadway Open House" presents a program of music, news and variety. Emcee Jerry Lester and Morey Amsterdam will alternate to introduce a galaxy of talent.

Video's Rosemary Clooney Given Start by Politics

By SAUL PETT

NEW YORK. (AP) Rosemary she says. "I listen to them, and Clooney, a distracting, blue-eyed blonde who will be warming your television tube this winter, started her singing career in politics. Her first public appearance as a vocalist was made in behalf of her grandfather. Grandpa wanted to be mayor of Maysville, Ky. Rosemary, not yet 13, sang mountain ballads at his rallies. Grandpa won the election and for his next campaign Rosemary's younger sister, Betty, helped out with the singing chores. Grandpa won again.

"We sang mountain ballads," Rosemary recalls, "and, of course, there could be no nonsense about it. We followed the melody closely and concentrated on singing the words clearly."

There is still no nonsense. Rosemary is the songstress on CBS's "Songs for Sale," both on the radio and television. This program presents songs by new composers, who appear on the show. When a singer is that close to the author it might not be safe for her to disguise his work under a heavily stylized delivery. "People are always telling me I ought to develop one style."

distance devotion remained unrequited did not paralyze her. A local radio station was auditioning for new talent and suddenly the young Clooney sisters found themselves on the air. They were on the air seven nights a week on the "Moon River Show." Everything went fine until they had to go back to high school. Their family made them
