JUST A SLIP

Death Report Exaggerated

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 24. (AP) "Twas just a slip of the book-keeping 'twixt the bank and the grave, but Joseph Schwartz, 34, wasn't phaving any."

He received a cashier's check in the mail yesterday for $547.39. The check was made out to a mortuary and carried a notation reading: "For funeral expenses of Joseph Schwartz."

Schwartz, who manufactures ladies' belts, also found a note informing him that the bank had deducted the amount from his savings account.

"I looked at the check and felt a sort of cold chill come over me," Schwartz related. "Then I thought, 'No, sir; this is a little previous. Somebody has made a mistake.'"

Sure enough. Officials at a mortuary said the check evidently had been drawn to cover expenses for another Joseph Schwartz, 71, who died Sept. 21.

Examination Set for Claims Clerk

An examination for claims assistant and field assistant positions in the Social Security Administration was announced today by Carl D. Monroe, acting manager of the local SSA office, 434 E. Third St. Applications must be filed before Nov. 14.

The examination requires college graduation or three years of specialized experience, Monroe states. Beginning salaries are $3100 a year. Qualified applicants may secure application blanks from the U. S. Civil Service Commission office in the Federal Building.

Temblors Noted in Various Areas Here Yesterday

Localized earth tremors were reported Monday afternoon by residents in various sections of the city.

A series of shakes, four or five minutes apart, was felt shortly after 2 p. m. by residents near Pacific Coast Hwy. and Fashion Ave.

Residents near Ocean Blvd. and Cerritos Ave. felt a sharp shake at 2:40 p. m.

No damage was reported in either case.

The tremors were not strong enough to be shown on the federal seismograph in the basement of the Public Utilities building. A Caltech official also said there had been no quake of sufficient intensity to be recorded on the school's seismograph.

Acheson Notes U. N. Proves Self

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24. (AP) Acheson said in a statement for broadcast to the armed forces on United Nations Day today, it is more than a military triumph. "Men have long dreamed of an international rule of law which would stop war," he said. "Now we have the means of making stop war."

The Korean aggressors' defeat, that rule of law a reality.
