TIP O' THE MORNING: The Andrews sisters leave radio next week to concentrate on personal appearances and television.

Three "first performances" will be on the program when the University of Wisconsin Concert band gives its 65th anniversary concert at 8:30 p.m. Sunday in the Wisconsin Union theater.

Prof. Raymond F. Dvorak will conduct the concert band, which will be assisted by the combined regimental bands and three soloists. The regimental bands are conducted by Robert M. Fleury and Donald Marcouiller. Fleury and Emmett R. Sarig will be guest conductors.

The soloists will be Mary Alice Graham, soprano; Robert Williams, horn; and Charles Lunde, piano. Dvorak's arrangement of the overture to Menotti's "Amelia Goes to the Ball" will be the first Madison performance of the work in which Dvorak conducted the U. S. Marine band in Washington last week.

Harold W. Rusch's "Menominee sketches" suite will have its first hearing anywhere. Rusch formerly taught at Shawano, near the Menominee Indian reservation; he now teaches music in the Ashland high school. "Menominee Sketches," based on tribal songs, is in four movements—"Spirit Rock," "Song of the Loon," "Lullaby," and "Drum Rhythm."

The third new work is a concert march paraphrase of "The Merry Widow Waltz" by Prof. H. F. Luckhardt of the university music school. It is dedicated to Dvorak.

Also on the program will be the first movement of Strauss' "Concerto for Horn," with Williams as soloist; the finale of Strauss' "Death and Transfiguration," conducted by Sarig; Respighi's "The Pines of Rome"; a group of short numbers conducted by Fleury; and Miss Graham's singing of "A Forsa Lui" from "La Traviata."

Williams made the hand arrangements of the concerto movement. AT MONROE: Prof. Raymond F. Dvorak will be guest conductor at the spring concert of the Monroe high school band and orchestra Apr. 4 and 5 in the school auditorium. Allan F. Barnard is music director at the school.

FILM FARE: Edith Gwynn, State Journal correspondent, writes from Hollywood... Here we go again! At this point, not only Ann Blyth is being tested to replace Anne Baxter for the starring role opposite Cary Grant in "Dr. Preloious," but Eleanor Parker and Jeanne Crain as well. Not that Ann hasn't been dreamy—but the part requires a mamselle slightly more mature-looking than the Blyth belle. It's a real race—because what gal wouldn't want this stint—with Joe Mankiewicz at the helm. A wire from Ed "Archie" Gardner, the radio comic and recent film-maker, says "The Man With My Face," which Ed produced recently in Puerto Rico (starring Barry Nelson), will be released by United Artists. Since Gardner has his own hard-earned gold in the opus, this surely comes under the head of very good news for him.

Big fat yawn dept.: After making with talk that he wasn't interested in sundry screen tests, "because one career in the family is enough," Lila Barer (Rory Calhoun's wife) will start the femme lead in "Savage Drums" with Sabu next week. Robert Clark, three times "set" to do stage appearance tours with Ida Lupino's "Hard, Fast and Beautiful," won't because he's signed to be in "Casa Manana," the new Lindsay Parsons musical.

First scenes of "My Son John" are being filmed in Washington. D. C. Van Heflin, Robert Walker, and Dean Jagger flew from Hollywood to join Helen Hayes, already there. Jose Ferrer was offered $100,000 to do "Androcles and the Lion," and turned it down ONLY because too many people would be hurt if he left the cast of "Twentieth Century" on Broadway!

Final title of Howard Hawks' "The Thing" is now "The Thing From Another World." One of the fighters in "Battle-ground," Richard Martin, is joining the Franciscan Fathers. It's a very sinister role Alexander Knox has in "The Son of Dr. Jekyll" at Columbia. Louis Hayward plays the title part. These economically minded studios: Many costumes used in "Quo Vadis" are already being used a second time by M.G.M. for a comic opera sequence in "Strictly Dishonorable." Opera is really getting G-R-A-N-D in movietown; Ezio Pinza and Mario Lanza will co-star in the comic opera "Deburau." Alexis Smith joins Macdonald Carey in "The Cave" at Universal-International. Frank Fay will co-star in "A Wac in His Life" at 20th-Fox. Marilyn Monroe is the Wac, with Jeanne Crain, William Lundigan, and Jack Palance in other major roles. Clara Bow wants the "Lana Turner type" for the screen blog of the "It" gal. Why not the "Clara Bow Type," Clara?
