6:36-KNE. With the coming of spring Luigi becomes homesick for the old country... although living in the busiest part of Chicago he sets out for a piculo in the country, but his well-meaning friends compire to keep him at home... such is "Life With Luigi." Scheme to keep him at home... such is "Life With Luigi."

1:04-Kiij.-In keeping with the Easter season, "Song of Liberty" presents a dramatization of the famous "Letter to Augustus." Charles Coburn is heard in the role of Pontius Pilate, who wrote the letter out of his conviction of the innocence of Christ.

3:36-KECA—The last two semifinalists of the "Metropolitan Auditions of the Air" make their try for victory tonight.... They are Pred Thomas, baritone from Pennsylvania, and Maria Leone, soprano, from Michigan. The winner is to be announced next week.

RECORFI-"Mr. Statler's Story," the Mr. Statler of hotel fame, will have the recital of his achievements in that field retold on "Cavalcade of America." John Lund portrays the life of a man who has revolutionized the hotel industry. 9:00-KECA-"America's Town Meeting" originates from Washington, D. C., tonight where representatives of both factions will discuss "The Role of Labor and Business in Our National Defense." Speaker for Labor is Al Hayes, president of the Machinists Union, who will be opposed by Robert A. Whitney, president of the National Sales Executives, Inc.

Answer to Question No. 3

Usually—but it's the hard way. All kids feed a "yard" which, according to John K. Leggman, is a vacant lot stockpiled with used lumber, bricks, paint, tilling, nails, etc. Turn boys and girls loose and, with mild community counsel, they'll take it from there—digging caves and wading pools, building Indian villages. The best thiring they build is character. By working together they learn leadership, fellowship, getting along together. Try it, folks, in your town. It's cheaper than courts and jalls.
