 "Favorite Waltzes of Johann Strauss," recorded by the Munich Philharmonic orchestra under Fritz Rieger... Flowing, clean versions of "Voices of Spring," "On the Beautiful Blue Danube," "You and You," and Vienna Blood." (Mercury).

recorded by the Cologne Concert, Bavarian-Radio, and Kurt Graunke orchestras . . . More of the same-"Morning Papers," "Artist's life." "Roses from the South," "Delerien," "Aquarellen," and "Music of the Spheres." (Mercury).

 "Music for Orchestra" and "Invitation to the Ballet," recorded by Alfred Newman and the Hollywood Symphony orchestra . . . First-rate recordings, with emphasis on rhythm, made on the sound stage of United Artists pictures. Onthe two sides of this LP are "Banjo and Fiddle," Gershwin's "Second Prelude," "Ritual Fire: Dance," "Vienna Beauties," "Dance of the Buffoons," "Jamaican Rhumba," "Royal Scandal" overture, "Waltz of the Flowers," introduction to Act 3 of "Swan Lake," "Russian Sailors Dance," "Sleeping Beauty" overture, and "Can Can" from "Gaite Parisienne." Shortness of pauses between numbers detracts a bit from the record's value (Mercury).

 "Piano Moods," recorded by Bill Clifton ... Eight favorites of the '30s, plus Clifton's own "Love-Forty Blues." Among the tunes are "Isn't It Romantic," "Down the Old Ox Road," "Love Is the Sweetest Thing." Al Ham, bass, and Terry Snyder, drums, give an unobtrusive lift. (Columbia).

The Non-Skid Spot Pad Truss will hold your Hernis, just like your finger tips, with a fraction of the pressure of ordinary trusses.
