Let's Explore Your Mind

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

1. DOES THE INCREASED USE OF PERFUME BY MEN INDICATE THEY ARE BECOMING MORE FEMININE? YES  NO

2. WHEN CHILDREN ARE "BAD" ARE THEY AS UNREASONABLE AS WE THINK THEY ARE? YES  NO

3. IS PRIDE IN OWNING PEDIGREE DOGS A SIGN OF SNOBBISHNESS? YES  NO

Answer to Question No. 1
Probably not, but it may indicate that feminine-minded men feel free to use perfume. Psychologists Terman and Cox have found that men who use perfume are more "feminine-minded" and have more feminine personalities than nonusers. This doesn't mean that they are sissies, as all men have some feminine mental and personality tendencies. But the perfume users sure smell plump purty.

Answer to Question No. 2
No. In her wise, delightful book, "Children Have Their Reasons," child psychologist Ruth Wendell Washburn says that when children seem unreasonable to us, it's because we lack insight. The child always has its reasons, and what seems to us—good reasons. Unless we have the patience and intelligence to find out how the problem looks to the child, we simply cannot discipline or counsel wisely. I had a lovely, wise mother, but I wish she had had this book. It's published by Appleton-Century-Crofts Co., 35 W. 32nd St., New York City.

Answer to Question No. 3
3. Yes. Special pride in owning anything your neighbor can't have tends toward snobishness and prejudice. I wish some student would compare pedigree dog owners and owners of mongrels on the new Snobishness and Prejudice Tests. My little, lovable, no-account Major is a mixture of all dogs back to his wolf ancestry, but he outsmarts me all the time.

Man, 82, Saved After Half Hour in Water

NORWOOD, Mass., April 2. (AP)—An 82-year-old man clung to his capsized sailboat for half an hour in the chilly water of New Pond before he was sighted and rescued yesterday for her cookies on KNX day.

As his rescuers talked of rushing him to a hospital, Grahn spoke up: "Just take me home. A couple of whiskeys and I'll be o.k." He went home and had them.
