STOMACH ULCER PAINS SEEN EASED BY DRUG

NEW YORK 2 - (AP) Relief Sw'ny M'ch; News News; Barly Bird dav.

The antihistamine, sold only on prescription, also healed or partly patients treated, the medical reports said.

They termed the results encouriging, but said further studies were needed, on more patients.

The tests weer made by Drs. Nor- fleet submarine force commander. man H. Isaacson, James L. Kelley, Jr., and Brian Blades of George Washington University, and by Dr. Marvin Ziperyn, U. S. Maritime Service Training Station, Alameda, Calif. One report was published in the medical annals of the District of Columbia, the other in the Western Annals of Medicine and Sur-

Daily doses of the antihistamine soon banished pain in the nine patients, and some could eat what they wished, and even smoke and drink, the physicians said. Stomach acidity was reduced an average of 87 per cent in five patients, the George Washington researchers
