

ROCKY CLARK'S LISTENING POST

"The Halls of Ivy," radio's outstanding new dramatic program of the current season, continues to win much-deserved honors. Last week it received a Peabody award, radio's counterpart of film's "Oscars," and this week it is to have the honor of broadcasting from the annual dinner of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce in Washington.

With Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Colman playing the leading roles of a college president and his wife, Wednesday night's performance from the C. of C. dinner, on NBC at 8 o'clock, will be a repeat production of the April 4 script which drew an avalanche of praise from listeners. It's a story of vandalism at "Ivy College" where several boys, about to be drafted, find themselves unable to study because of their uncertain status and proceed to rip up seats in the campus theater—until the Halls (Colman) settle things in their usual diplomatic manner.

Another prize-winning NBC dramatic show, "Dragnet," was honored last week when it received an "Edgar" the mystery writers' counterpart of an "Oscar." The award was made at the Edgar Allen Poe Awards dinner in New York. Citations also went to Mutual's "Murder by Experts" and "Mysterious Traveler."

The National Safety Council also passed out awards last week to two radio programs—NBC's "Big Town" and "Father Knows Best."

HAILEY TO SPEAK
James M. Hailey, president of the University of Bridgeport, is to discuss the university's 25th anniversary celebration over WJAB tomorrow night at 8:45 on the "Across My Desk" program. Miss Mildred W. Behaumann of Devon will play an organ selection on the program.

FAIRFIELD U. PRAISED
Olive Tynan of Stratford writes this column a note of praise for the "fine program" being presented by Fairfield University over WJAB, Mondays at 8 p.m. Says she: "Discussions of both vital and timely subjects are presented so that the listener knows they are based on sound principal and philosophy rather than the tumbled theories which all too often entangle our thinking."

"It occurs to me," she adds, "that program chairmen are missing a fine chance to give their meetings a real zest if they fall to at least try to get some of the speakers on these broadcasts to address them. I would certainly recommend Mr. C. J. Stuart who spoke last Monday night on the subject, 'Are the Educated Estranging America?'"

On tomorrow night's program, Gaimen F. Donnanuma, professor of history and government, will discuss "Asia: A Sign of Deficient American Foreign Policy" with student panelists William Heagney and Glen Hawman. John A. Meaney serves as moderator.

IT'S DERBY WEEK
CBS provides exclusive coverage of the Kentucky Derby next Saturday at 5:15 p.m. The network has also arranged to cover the Kentucky Derby Trial race Tuesday at 5:15 p.m., and there will be Derby Previews Friday at 6:15 and Saturday at 3:45. Also scheduled on CBS is the Dixie Handicap.
