The television production of "One Man's Family" is written by the same "sparkplug," Carlton Morse, but is produced in New York, using altogether different actors and actresses. Listeners and viewers were confused with the difference in voices for a time, but the whole thing has leveled off to a point where the public accepts both casts.

Came across a very interesting but sad situation involving actors and actresses in the TV field recently. I'd like to point out one case as an example of this situation. It concerns a cute little redhead by the name of Rochelle Stanton, who is better known to televiewers of the Wilshire Club NTG show as "Rocky." Answer to Question No. 1 No, according to a study of the sex knowledge of senior nursing students made by two psychologists who reported that nurses were extremely ignorant of the simplest "facts of life." Their ignorance is similar to that revealed by another psychologist who conducted sex education classes for 20,000 occupation troops in Germany.

Answer to Question No. 2 Yes, according to Educator Herbert G. Williams. His conclusions are: 1. Comics are woven into our modern life. 2. Help the study of geography, animal life, nature, history and science. 3. Increase vocabulary and improve reading ability. 4. Stimulate creative imagination.

5. Give the child a wide library at small cost. 6. Are used in leading university schools as teaching aids. 7. Forbidding teaching aids. 7. Forbidding comics increases their glamour. If you don't agree, cuss Mr. Wil-
