TIP O' THE MORNING: Next time a vacancy arises on the Federal Communications commission, don't be surprised if Theodore "American Forum" Granik gets the appointment.

About 150 theater managers from all over southern Wisconsin are expected here Tuesday, June 19, for a trade showing of "Show-boat" at the Capitol theater. Stars of the Technicolor production are Kathryn Grayson, Ava Gardner, Howard Keel, and Joe E. Brown.

The same theater will have its last pre-vacation cartoon show for children at 10 a. m. Saturday. "Maggie Dely," feminine half of the "Chez Show" team, heard at 10:15 p. m. nightly except Monday over WMAQ, is one of the four famous Daly sisters of Fond du Lac. The other Dalys are Sheila, teen-age editor of a Chicago newspaper; Maureen, associated editor of a woman's magazine, and Kay, account executive with a top advertising agency.

A special preview of the international prize-winning paintings of the Hainmark Art award will be held Tuesday, June 12, in the Milwaukee Art Institute. Admission will be by invitation.

The Fine Arts quartet of Chicago, of which Hal (ex-UW) Klitz is violinist, will open a special six-program concert series in Chicago on Monday.

FILM FARE: Edith Gwynn, State Journal correspondent, writes from Hollywood... Mack Sennett has presented the Academy of M. P. Arts and Sciences with an almost unbelievable collection of movie data. Dating from Sennett's reign as comedy king of the business, collection totals over 70,000 stills, scripts, negatives, etc., etc. Among the world-famous people (some of whom are no longer living) who figure in the photos are Gloria Swanson, Mabel Normand, Bebe Daniels, Carole Lombard, Marie Dressler, Wally Berry, Louise Fazenda, W. C. Fields, Chas. Chaplin, Fatty Arbuckle. And of course there are also countless snaps of the Keystone Kops and Sennett bathing beauties. The stack of nostalgic stuff covers a 40-year span.

Frank Loesser originally tried to get Edmund O'Brien the role in which Robert Alda has scored a hit in Broadway's "Guys and Dolls." But Eddie turned it down figuring he couldn't sing well enough.

The biography of renowned dancer Isadora Duncan, whose life ended so tragically in a fantastic auto accident (her scarf caught in some shrubbery as she was speeding along and choked her to death) is among the many yarns rumored as Rita Hayworth's come-back picture, but, believe us, even her studio bosses, still searching frantically for something for Rita to work in just a few months hence, don't know even vaguely what it will be. They wish they just had one good idea!

Aian Young is doing his first musical number this week (in "Aaron Slick From Punkin' Creek") with Dinah Shore (that doll!) and Robert Merrill.

Dawn Adams, still under 20 and a lovely, bright gal, is due for an M.G.M. build up. She's the dotter of a former test-pilot once wed to Arline Judge.
