The talent quest centered on three actors to play Amos, Andy and the Kingfish, and the search started in 1946, ending in the summer of 1950 after a small army of scouts had traveled some 25,000 miles, interviewed and an about controversial issues during heir very looks alone, it appears to be masterful casting. The majority of the balance of the cast such as Johnny Lee as the Law ver Algonquin Calhoun, Ernes ine Wade as the Kingfish's wife Sapphire, Lillian Randolph as Madame Queen, and Amanda Randolph as Sapphire's "momma." play the same characters on term on the Federal Communica-the radio version, and their voices tion Commission was confirmed will be most familiar.

In the summer of 1950, while FCC chairman.

Gosden was playing golf with his old friend, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, he was told of a Negro lad who had been attached to the Eisenhower staff in Europe, and since the casting was still incom plete, he tracked the man down. out he proved unsuitable for any of the roles. This same summer and Correll had dinner with President Truman at the White House, and again the subject of their search came up, with the suggestion of a southern Negro college being mentioned by Mr. Truman. A search here by Mr. Truman. A also proved fruitless.

Everyone now is anxiously awaiting the TV debut of this great show that is so well known to millions of fans after these 25 years on the air with Gosden and Correll as "Amos 'n Andy.

Answer to Question No. 1 True. In visiting several large sanitariums. I have found that nearly all the patients there for "rest" had ve y little or nothing to do. Persons who have lost their jobs soon develop profound weariness and constantly feel the need at "rest." What they need is a job, one consential enough to rest them from genial enough to rest them from their anxiety. Answer to Question No. 2

Yes, or you've lost much of your powers of observation and your powers of observation and appreciation of what is going on in the world. Window shopping is a grand cure for the blues unless it makes you blue because you can't buy a lot of the things you can't buy a lot of the things you see. That never bothers me as I already have two suits of clothes, plenty of underwear and clothes, plenty of underwear and socks and a good pair of Sunday shoes. What else do I need.

Answer to Question No. 3
Yes. They enable leaders to get the people hopping mad "Remember the Maine" did much to get us into the Spanish War, which diplomacy might have averted. Hitler and Mussolini helped start World War II by such words as "National grandeur," "Racial destiny," "Citizens of the Roman Empire," and similar tommyrot. "Fiftyfus four forty or Fight" nearly pet us into a war when hort peoplidin't know where or what
