CENTER REOPENS - Victory Service Center, 39 S. Pine Ave., reopened its doors recently to all service personnel, after being closed since the end of World War II. Rev. Emma Taylor (center), pastor of First Assembly of God Church, and director of the center, heads a group of churches and citizens sponsoring the club. A large area of the first floor has been made into a homelike room, with free stationery, good reading matter and free canteen. Beds and lockers are rented for a small fee and the center is in operation 24 hours a day. Approximately 1000 servicemen passed through the center last Sunday, says Rev. Taylor. Support of the center comes from freewill giving by interested persons. Gifts include pastries, cookies, coffee and milk, she announced.

MUSIC - Phil Kerr of Pasadena (above), one of the outstanding personalities in church music, will present a special program at 7 p. m. Sunday at First Nazarene Church, 741 E.

10th St., Rev. Carlton G. Ponsford, pastor, announces. Featured soloist for the evening will be Barbara Burge, member of the Old-Fashioned Revival Hour Choir. The program will include a new composition by Kerr, hymn stories and community singing.
